ARLINGTON HTS. PREPARES FOR BIG YEAR

of a Million to Be Spent on Arlington Business Blocks in 1928

The year 1928 may hold many things for Arlington Heights, among the greatest of them all will be the building program in the business district. Plans are now being drawn and contracts will be before spring for the erection of three business blocks, which will aggregate $300,000 in cost. One of these buildings will be practically two business blocks with separate owners, but built as one unit. The basement of one of the blocks is now being dug. Plans are being prepared for the Elase-Reese block on the Northwest highway and the former site of the Methodist parsonage will have a three-story building erected the coming month.

There are numerous other business buildings in prospect. The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. has been in negotiation with local people for the erection of building costing not less than $400,000. Business buildings in Arlington Park subdivisions are in prospect and there is a plan to erect a $500,000 expended for building operations. The City of Good Neighbors.

With the transfer of business frontage some basins for determining the relative values are obtained. According to a real estate transfer of the past few months, Campbell street frontage is worth in the neighborhood from $350 to $500 a front foot; Northwest Highway brings prices $300 a front foot and property on the edge of the business district on cross streets is worth in the neighborhood of $200 a front foot. Downtown property has become so valuable that the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. have practically given up hopes of having their new building in that district.

The activity on Northwest highway frontage is no pronounced than anywhere else. The opportunities for investment upon such frontage is appealing to many local people and frequent sales are recorded. Fully fifty lots have been placed hands singly. This includes sale of both the Lauderdale and the Belmont blocks and the auction sale of lots upon the eastern part of the village.

Mr. C. M. Behrens of M. Behrens Co., states that he believes that real estate values in Arlington Heights are upon a new basis. He says more business is being done in that line in Arlington Heights in proportion to its size than in any other Chicago suburb. This is especially true of business and acreage properties.

W. F. Krause, J. of Krause & Kehe, is looking forward to greater activity than any year. He expects credit to these tracks for a large part of interest that is being shown by Chicago people in property in Arlington Heights.

Mr. W. E. Mehl believes that the proposed Avenue high speed highway is going to have a big effect in Arlington Heights and its near towns upon Northwest highway. That highway will bring Arlington Heights closer to Chicago loop and an Evanston and Mr. Meier says there is ever reason to believe that there will be an increased demand for homes and lots in Arlington Heights.

One of the business blocks are the opinions is evidenced by the fact that on early lots included in the three business blocks about to be constructed.

The Landmark Block. The plans for the Landmark block upon West Campbell street, were announced in these columns several weeks ago. The destruction of the former block which is nearly completed and the new building will be completed in the month. The size of this building is best illustrated by the extent of the excavation, which extends to the rear of the lot. Mr. Landmark is planning to occupy this building when it is completed and it is especially designed for his purpose. A tin shop and work room will extend to the rear with a number of garages at the end of the lot. The coal bunkers and heating plant will be under these garages, which will permit the unobstructed use of the basement for storage and display purposes. The second and third stories will be divided to flats.

Reese-Blase Block. The first large business block to be erected upon the Northwest highway will be the Reese-Blase block upon land that has been re-

Methodists to Hold Services in New Addition Sunday

The first services in the new Arlington Heights Methodist church will be held Sunday morning. The church services will be held in the parlors in the new addition at 11 o'clock. The Sunday school will meet in the adjoining rooms at ten o'clock. Work upon the building has been somewhat delayed but the congregation will no doubt welcome this opportunity to worship within the walls of the new building.

F. J. Sachs Assumes Control Town Pump

The Town Pump at the corner of the Northwest Highway and Euclid avenue, Arlington Heights, has a new proprietor. Mr. F. J. Sachs has purchased the interest of Mr. Geo. Hughes and took full possession January 1. Mr. Sachs has been allied with Mr. Hughes for the past few months. A new addition containing a kitchen has been added to the building which will speed up the service of lunches and sandwiches. The Town Pump has become quite popular among the high school pupils and the morning public and the new proprietor is looking forward to a greatly increased business. He will specialize in service to sleighing parties.

Clearance Sale of Furniture Now on At Local Store

January is going to be a good month to buy that furniture you have wanted for some time. Studtmann's furniture store has made some sweeping reductions in a January Clearance Sale that should appeal to economical buyers. This is a genuine sale and not an advertising stunt to get possible customers in their store. There is no reason why local people should go to Chicago for their purchases of furniture. Studtmann not only give the selection, but also the prices which even Chicago can not compete.

Arlington Heights Prospered in 1927

A year ago this week, the Arlington Heights Herald told the achievements of 1927. A perusal of the files show that the majority of the things prophesied have come to pass. There were more than enough unexpected achievements to counter balance any of the hopes of January, 1927, that did not materialize. Arlington Heights is a bigger town and a better town than a year ago. It has expanded in many ways.

Two new parish houses have been built. The churches of the Good Neighbors are in a better position to administer to the spiritual and mental needs of the community today than it was a year ago. The Methodist congregation is about to see a realization of their plans for a new church building. The Presbyterian congregation have nearly completed an addition to their church plant that places it in the front rank of similar institutions of the Chicago suburbs.

Peter's Lutheran congregation has installed an English pastor and two pastors now serve the needs of that congregation. Arlington Heights now has at its borders the greatest race track in the world. Nearly $2,000,000 is being expended in its construction and the success that attended the short race meet of October, has given an idea of the future glories that await Arlington Park. The park has brought, during 1927, increased property values and added income for the people of Arlington Heights.

Our telephone exchange had a thousand subscribers a year ago. Since that time it has increased to over 1,200 and the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. is considering the erection of their own building and the installation of the common battery system in Arlington Heights. With that installation the village will be accorded a telephone plant that is equalled in only a few Chicago suburbs.

It was a year ago that B. F. Helfers became postmaster. The post office has made great strides and thru the efforts of Mr. Helfers, there is a promise that the city delivery system will soon be extended to parcels and packages. The busi-

H. J. Byrd Snowbound In Buffington, Indiana

Our judge is snowbound. At least that was the telephone message that was flashed to his office with the Kuntz Realty Co., on Tuesday when he inquired as to the condition of the roads in Cook county. He went to Buffington, Ind., for the Christmas holidays. The snow down there was too much for him and when he learned that few highways were opened around Arlington Heights, he was forced to extend his vacation two days more.

T. Siemro to Take Vacation to Cuba

Mr. and Mrs. T. Siemro are going to celebrate their release from business cares by taking a trip to Cuba. They will be accompanied upon their trip by Mrs. Siemro's sister, Miss Emily Schaeffer. They will motor south, stopping in Boloxi and New Orleans and upon their arrival somewhere near the southern end of Florida, they intend to fly to Cuba. If Ted is able to do half of the things that his friends urged him to do, he will have a rather busy time.

Arlington Plays Libertyville Tonight On Home Floor

Tonight the Arlington Heights high school basketball team begins its 1928 conference schedule when it does battle with the Libertyville team. Libertyville was this year's football champs, and is now one of the strongest teams in the basketball race. They have a big rangy team, and while they were defeated by the crack Franklin Park team they have won their share of early season games and will make many a team sit up and take notice before the loop schedule is completed. Spellman, their center, is one of the biggest men in the league, and is hard to stop under the basket. He is a power on defense, too, repeatedly getting the ball off the bank-board and starting the drive back towards the diminitive Baker, however, in their scoring ease, being about the best floor worker on the squad, and one who seems to be able to hit the hoop from almost any spot on the floor.

To combat these basketball coaches Grose and Cressy of Arlington, have been working their squad hard to get them in condition for the January schedule. Arlington has about the hardest schedule imaginable, playing during the current month Libertyville here tonight; Jan. 13 and 14; Palatine and Franklin Park, both at Arlington; Jan. 20 at Libertyville, back home the next night to tackle Antioch again and then on the road on Friday and Saturday nights, Jan. 27 and 28 at Wauconda and Franklin Park. The next week is the date of the 2nd annual league tourney and if there is anything left of them by that time, Barrington, Bensenville, Wauconda and Palatine will be tackled in the order named during the following month.

Facing this schedule the coaches realize that they must have some skill drilled to rest the regulars. So far the brunt of the game has been borne by Wilton, Pate, and Prosser at the guards; Wahl at center and Capt. Bolte, Eric and Brown at the forwards. Johnson looks ready to step into Wahl's shoes at center, while Diederich and Brodman are being groomed to fill Bolte's post. These boys are coming along nicely and if recent games and practice sessions indicate anything, they will make the older lads step out before the season is over otherwise they will be out of jobs.

Curtain Raisers

There will be three games tonight. At 6:15 two girls teams will hook up in a contest between the Freshmen and the Sophomores. The girls have been putting up a neat article of ball recently and are deserving of recognition.

At 7:15 the Libertyville and Arlington second teams will clash. This should be a red hot scrap as the locals are out to avenge the football defeat of the season just past.

At 7:15 the Libertyville and Arlington schools will mix. The Heights squad will be out to add another victory to their list, which was swelled last week by the defeat of the Alumni again. So far they have lost only to the crack Barrington outfit and have taken the measure of the alumni.

The annual 4th of July celebration was conducted in 1927 without any cost to the promoters and proved to be an old fashioned celebration, such as our forefathers enjoyed.

St. John's church celebrated its 25th anniversary July 17. Arlington Heights exposition, was a fall event which was about the biggest thing that has ever been attempted by the business men. 3,800 people were in the exhibition tent upon the "big night."

The building achievements and other public ventures are covered elsewhere in this page. Altogether 1927 has been a great year for Arlington Heights and it is established a record that will cause the little fellow, "1928" step some to duplicate during the next 12 months.

After waiting ten years for electric street lights, the switching on of the new lights in Arlington Heights on New Year's Eve, was an event worthy of more than passing notice. Last Saturday was a bitter cold day but few snow banks and frosted cheeks and hands were not obstacles too great to be overcome and a small party of village officials with representatives of the Public Service Co., were members of the small group who are shown below who left warm fires to journey out to the western end of town in order that proper ceremonies should be given to the important event.

The members of the party were Mayor Julius Flentie, Alderman Gus Framburg, chairman of police and light committee; J. A. Schaback, district manager of the Public Service Co.; M. H. Schreiber, of the Barrington office; S. H. Adler, district engineer; A. S. Stange, district line foreman and Editor Paddock.

A Laugh A Day

"Laughter, while it lasts, slackens and unbraces the mind, weakens the faculties, and causes a kind of remissness and dissolution in all the powers of the soul; and thus far it may be looked upon as a weakness in the composition of human nature. But when we consider the frequent reliefs the human body receives from it, and how often it breaks the gloom, which is apt to depress the mind and dampen the spirits, with transient, unexpected gleams of joy, one would take care not to grow too wise for so great a pleasure of life." is one of the rarest gems of wisdom that ever came from the pen of Joseph Addison, Englishman of letters.

These words from the seventeenth century are as true today as they were when Addison conceived them. Men and women in every walk of modern life recognize the value of laughter, how it smooths life's pathway and lengthens it also.

Shakespeare said "Smile in men's faces, smooth, deceive and cog." But laughter exposes its own deception. The hearty laugh rings true. "Laugh and the world laughs with you," but seek to cover dark thoughts behind your laughter and the whole world knows it.

Among the illiterate and impoverished laughter is natural and unrestrained and even cultivated. It makes life endurable. But with those classes which aspire to culture and refinement as society defines them it is usual to bridle one's laughter. A boisterous laughter is considered crude and one who has given vent to such a spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm is regarded as a boor. Upon recovering his or her composure, is apt to experience a feeling of depression and humiliation, not because the laughter afforded no relief but because of what others will think. The fault, and it is a fault, is with society not with culture or the cultured individual.

For health's sake let us not "grow too wise, for so great a pleasure" as at least one good laugh a day.

twice, Bensenville once, and Antioch was nosed out on their floor in a hectic game, just before the Christmas holidays, marking the first time Arlington has defeated Antioch in recent years.

Alumni Game

The Alumni game last Friday was a well played contest. The Alumni had a squad of ten men on the floor and probably would have won had they kept their best five on the floor all during the game. However, all were wanting a chance to display their wares to their high school rivals and the game was finally won by the high school lads, when Rex Bolte got hot in the second half and dropped in six field goals. For the Alumni Porter, Meyer, Yahrling and Paulson probably put up the best game. Their lineup was as follows: Brown, Le-fever, Bolte and Porter, at the forwards; Paulson and Crane at center; and Thal, Meyer, Johnson and Hartman at the guards.

Mayor Flentie Turns on the Juice

The lights are regularly controlled by a time clock, but for this occasion a drop cord with a hand switch had been arranged and the accompanying picture was snapped at the crucial hour of 4:41 arrived and Mayor Flentie turned on the street lighting and made Arlington Heights the best lighted village in the northwest suburbs. The picture was snapped after sundown and the features of the "actors" are not very distinct, but our readers can recognize the mayor by the white gloves that he bought for the occasion and the other fellows by the clothes they are wearing.

The lights were tested and focused after midnight and during the night. Those lights that hang in the center of the streets are properly focused by means of the shade so that the rays are diffused in line of the streets and not to one side.

Super Subdivision For Super Hiway By Laudermilk

Bert H. Laudermilk appeared before the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday evening and outlined plans for his development of the former H. Roy Berry subdivision east of town. The new tri-state super highway passes thru this property and the H. Roy Berry people made the necessary changes last summer to dedicate the needed right-of-way for the 200 foot street. The Laudermilk Realty Association is taking over the property for sale purposes and plans to make it subdivision deluxe along the Northwest highway. They have awarded the contract for $15,000 worth of shrubbery. Local contractors have been asked to figure upon the erection of several new homes. Sewer and water will be installed the coming spring and Mr. Laudermilk states that he intends to make it a subdivision worthy of the great highway that will pass through its boundaries.

Arlington Village Board On Zoning Of Arlington Park

The Arlington Heights village board zoned the Northwest highway and Wilke road for business at their meeting Tuesday evening. They also gave the same class to three blocks on Oakton Street. The balance of the subdivision will remain as residence.

A representative of the engineering department of the Public Service Co., was present and offered the services of his department to the village when plans were considered for the proposed pumping station.

Eastern Star Notes. A public installation of officers of Palatine Chapter 585 O. E. S. will be held on Saturday evening, January 7 at the Arlington Heights High School.

Over a Million Dollars In Public Improvements Outlook for This Year

The year 1928 will be a busy one for the municipality of Arlington Heights. It is so early in the year that many of the probably street improvements have not yet been suggested to the village authorities, but plans are already in process for improvements, which, if completed may cost $1,500,000. The greatest of these is the long delayed and necessary sewer improvement, which cost will be between three-quarters and a million dollars. An improvement of equal importance, but the cost of which will be less than $200,000 is the new pumping station and well. Among the subdivisions the Bert H. Laudermilk Realty Co. have announced that they will ask for sewer and pavement in the former Russell farm, which will mean the expenditure of about $300,000.

The year that has just closed has not been an idle one. The special assessment improvements total $367,629.86. Those figures are exact and while we are giving them, we might also say that the saving to the property owners by the competitive bidding was over $38,000, or about 10 per cent of that amount representing the difference between the high and low bidders on the improvements.

There were a total of sixteen improvements, the largest being $99,000, for paving of Groesbeck & Landmeier properties and $36,000 for water in the same subdivision. Over $92,000 was spent for the water improvement in the H. Roy Berry property east of town and $36,000 for a like improvement in Dwyer and other streets in the western part of the village. The sidewalks in Arlington Park cost $40,000, while the street widening in the business section totaled $16,000. The other improvements were each less than $10,000, but all of them

Village finances are always a "ticklish" problem, the receipts never reaching quite as far as are planned, but according to the records of the treasurer, the village is in better shape this January than usual and with the careful pruning of expenses, there will be a good balance sheet by the end of the fiscal year.

entailed practically the same amount of work upon the part of the village board.

New Sewer System in 1928

The enlarged sewer system and new disposal station has been hanging fire in Arlington Heights for several years. The future growth of the village and the re-leasing for residence purposes of a number of blocks within the old section depends upon the successful solution of Arlington's sewer problem. The engineers have been giving a lot of attention to the problem and are about ready to present definite plans to the village board. Various easements and some condemnation of property may also be necessary. With this problem out of the way, the city of Arlington Heights of the future with 30,000 inhabitants, are assured ample sewage facilities. Great as is the price, that this improvement will cost, it is done too great for the territory that will be served and the individual price per lot will be small.

Ample Water Soon

An auxiliary well and water pumping equipment should be a reality before spring. Well drillers are at work upon a new well located upon property purchased by the village facing the Northwest highway. The funds for this well and equipment were authorized by the voters of the village in 1926. In the purchase of the property for the new well, the village is again looking to the future. The property is ample for a future municipal building and fire station that will be needed in the not far distant future.

Village finances are always a "ticklish" problem, the receipts never reaching quite as far as are planned, but according to the records of the treasurer, the village is in better shape this January than usual and with the careful pruning of expenses, there will be a good balance sheet by the end of the fiscal year.

MAYOR JULIUS D. FLENTIE

Other Changes

Arlington Heights jumped out of the gas age January first. Until that time, it was the only village in northern Illinois that still lighted its streets with gas. The new lights were turned on New Year's Eve and the general public welcomed the change.

The zoning ordinance was another achievement of 1927. It was passed after many months of planning and if the zoning and appeal boards of the future are as much careful consideration to any pre-meditated changes as the framers of the ordinance did to its making, Arlington Heights will be safe from any mistakes in zoning matters.

The business men took a liberal view of the licensing of the various classes of business. The old ordinance was declared to have been unjust in many ways. The village dads asked the business men to draw up their own ordinance. This they did and as a result the total amount that will be collected from business licenses the coming year was expected to be more than that of previous years.

In chronicling the municipal achievements of 1927, we cannot overlook our police department. With Arlington Park and its hundreds of workers within its midst, the village had a new responsibility. The disturbance of the peace that many people thought would accompany the erection of a huge race track did not materialize. Some credit for that fact is no doubt due to the efforts of the police department, which exerted preventive measures, rather than corrective ones and the necessary arrests were very few.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Tell you what ails the present generation, besides high salaries and big wages. It is the loss of poor Richard's sayings out of our school books, copy books and readers. "Always taking out of the meal bag and never putting in, soon comes to the bottom." Never buy that which you do not need, because it is cheap.

Such wise advice, read into the minds of plastic youth, never loses its influence. Then here is the installment plan of paying for some luxury, you are told by a bland city salesman you need no money, just take some showy unneeded article home and pay so much a month, it is yours.

You pay for a time, lose your position, fail in a payment, and comes a big truck and takes away your "brass idol" and you lose all you had paid on it.

This in no wise condemns paying on the installment plan for things you need. Paying on the monthly plan for a home gives a fine opportunity and when you buy at home of our real estate dealers or merchants; it is a safe and good way to buy. But beware of dealers in the city whom you do not know who carry the idea of helping you to get something for nothing.

All this is preliminary to saying it is wiser and safer to buy at home. Now that's enough preach, let's talk about the glorious good time we all enjoyed during holidays. Some of us are far isolated from our own and maybe feel at times as if we don't belong at Christmas, we are all brethren, one great family in the joy of peace, good will.

Just now dear young folks, don't let any old ogre scare you about losing the joy out of life, as far as you on face. The greater grows your appreciation of Christmas, and all it means to us; yes and greater grows your joy in loyal friends, and in all that is good and true in life, home and eternal hope.

Mighty sorry for those who had to go back to work Tuesday morning and those early morning trains are so "sooner" in their coming. Yet, dear friends, works, clerk, or shirks, you would be very miserable if you didn't have steady employment. I'm sure most of you will go cheerfully, and pity the poor millionaire, who has nothing to do but to get into mischief.

I heard more than one say during summer vacation they would be glad to be "back on their job" again. I know more than one teacher who resigned to give way to the younger generation, who have never been as happy as when in the harness. By the way, you should read those articles in Welfare Magazine about our maturity proving that the greatest things in the world have been given us by men and women, this generation would call "old"—and be all too eager to retire, that they might have their places.

Have you witnessed the marvelous beauty of the heavens these ideal winter nights? Rome sitting proudly on her seven hills. The tower of Babel blazing with electric lights. A sneaking invisible comet flying its seven tails, and dodging out of my sight, even the installation of our own electric lights, cannot equal the splendor of the moon shining on the snow these ideal winter nights with Jupiter a valiant second coursing through space for eons untold, and never once behind time. With this marvelous scene spread across the nightly sky—why strain your eyes for comets?

After all our electric lights don't seem so much out here on Douglas Avenue. Not far from the center of things, some are much disappointed in them, and even say their light does not extend as far as the old gas lights did. At any rate with a light on the corner of each block the middle of the block should be given. No doubt later on there will be a wider spread of beams.

Did anyone quote "When the days begin to lengthen the cold begins to strengthen"? At any rate there have been "cold New Years" more than one even in my own memory, and January has never been a real tropical month. February has more than enough given us two weeks of zero weather. Though the old darkey did say "I've seen 'thousands and thousands of Januarys and never seen one without a 'taw.' Of course this observing colored man lived in the south.

"Russell Cut" is sustaining its old reputation as a block to traffic. In older times trains were blocked within its walls, and now in that cut and around the highway curve, many motorists have been delayed or been forced to give up their holiday parties. Some were long delayed in the blockade, others hearing of the difficulties in that famed spot did not venture among these were J. C. Nehls who planned to be at his old home here, and L. Heap family who didn't go to her mother's home, as they had planned.

Do you realize the good work the Red Cross carried on? At a recent meeting at headquarters in the city it was reported that 60,000 packages for Christmas were distributed to our ex-soldiers, $193,000 had been received and they expected to exceed their quota of one million when the drive was closed. Through the courtesy of Mrs. Behr, who attended a recent meeting in the city we are told the following incidents:

Miss Reddy, secretary, told of the time when the Red Cross workers were doing all in their power to relieve the storm sufferers at Murphysboro, a fire had broken out to add to the flood devastation. Scores were forced to leave their homes carrying their household goods on their backs after going up one street and down another, to escape the fire from sheer exhaustion they dropped their wares and they were burned up. Later for relief one old colored mammy was asked how much money she needed to replace her lost furnishings when she said thirty-five dollars. She was asked if $35 would be enough and told she should have a much larger amount. "Dat's nuff," she persisted "thirty-five dollars worfs all I wants to tote, and dar mite be another fire."

Here goes the snow plow! Good for them. Autos have a hard time on our streets in the outer residential districts. Glad to see the way cleared. A party of surveyors from the city found in Arlington Heights a cold reception this morning. Have you kept count of the zero days so far?

O' the snow, the beautiful snow! spreading a white robe like charity's mantle over a grimy, black stained world. During this holiday time there have been lonely hearts and saddened homes in this little city of boasted good neighbors. From which the old time friendly spirit at times seems lost. Can snow, like charity's mantle hide the vice and the crime of the world? O' wonderful, midnight world, in white robed midnight peace.

Over the earth a mantle white gleams and glows in the soft moonlight; A robe of white, so pure, so clean With never a blot to mar the scene.

Is this the world where murder hides, Where vice in hideous form abides? Is this the world where serpents crawl With poisoned fangs to menace all.

Is this the world where hope is slain Where life goes out in terrors pain Where loving hearts in anguish break All for a worthless traitors sake.

Where an innocent trusting child Is made the victim of passions wild Made victim of crime too black to name, A world seems blind to crime and shame?

Is this the world in robes of white Hiding the crime and guilt tonight? Hiding where fiends all falsely come To crush out peace from hearts and home?

Where one hearts truth and loyalty Is crushed by basest rivalry Where innocence suffers tortures deep While the guilty lie in placid sleep.

Over the world a mantle white gleams and glows in the soft moonlight; A robe of white so pure and clean With never a blot to mar the scene.

O' Lord Christ with Thy mantle white Hide the sins of the world tonight Let thy melting love and stainless name, Wash from the world, its sin and shame.

—Elinore Crisler Haynes.

BLINDING HEADLIGHTS
"Something must be done, and done at once to put a stop to one of the greatest menaces that motorists have to contend with—namely, blinding headlights," according to a safety bulletin issued by the Automobile Club of Illinois. Death, injury, destruction and all forms of vehicular accidents can be attributed to glaring headlights which thereby convert the automobile into a car of death.

Pick up almost any newspaper and the results of accidents after dusk can be found in a large proportion laid to the fault of the fellow with the "brights on." Not more than a week ago, a careful driver as well as a respected citizen of Chicago ran full on into a car parked along the public highway. An approaching car that glared blinding the careful driver was the direct cause of death, injury and destruction to the parties involved. Having full possession of his powers, driving at a moderate speed, this driver had a clear vision of the road ahead until the motorist from the opposite direction with enough bright lights burning on his car to illuminate Soldier's Field bore down on him. How was he to know that there was another car parked along the road with a man and his wife standing behind trying to get a tire in place? Smash—It only took a second—but that was plenty of time to kill two, injure three and make orphans of four innocent children.

This case is not an exception and is only one of thousands that would offer no resistance or difficulty in locating the causes. We have on our statute books at the present time a law requiring automobiles to be equipped with such devices that will enable the operator to dim or change the focus of his headlights at will. The equipment of the majority of cars is perfect in every detail—but seldom does it come into actual use. How many drivers do you find that respect the rights of the other fellow enough to dim their lights when another car approaches. From experience I would say rather few—they are in the minority.

This wholesale slaughtering of innocent motorists must cease—it can't possibly go on as it is. If we are going to make for a safe highway, one of the first steps taken should be that of enforcing that law on the statute books of practically every municipality in the country, that a better regard for the other fellow and night motoring might be observed. Strict enforcement of such laws can do much to minimize the death toll of this contributing menace.

Will you help us stop this? If you are among the many that practice this form of driving, won't you co-operate with us in this drive for sane driving and tell the other fellow to do likewise. The Automobile Club of Illinois asks all its members and fellow motorists to set the example of "road courtesy" by dimming their headlights every time they see a car approaching. You can help us cut down this terrible death list by aiding in this drive. The saving of just one life would many times over pay the owner of the car who conscientiously thinks of the "other fellow's safety."

"What can we do? Cal does not choose. Hughes is too old. Hoover is too busy and modest. Al Smith is too wet, Dawes and Lowden efface each other and there you are. Perhaps we could get Prince Carol to come here. He is looking for a job."

An old fashioned girl is one who still hangs mistletoe on the chandelier.

Mutual Casualty Co.
Stockholders Gather
At Annual Meeting

Over four hundred farmers and rural business men, from almost every county in Illinois, gathered Wednesday at the Edgewater Beach Hotel for the annual meeting of the Mutual Casualty Company of Chicago, of which they are charter members. This organization sells accident and health insurance in rural districts only and confines its field to the state of Illinois.

After the routine business of the meeting had been concluded the agriculturalists listened to a number of addresses, the most notable of which was delivered by John Mayhew, attorney of Kankakee. Mr. Mayhew described the activities of the charter membership of the organization in his part of the state and made a rousing plea for better cooperation among farmers and country business men generally. Mr. Mayhew's remarks were greeted with tumultuous applause.

J. W. Kern, of Watseka, made a short address on the benefits of organization and mutual effort among those engaged in agriculture and rural business.

W. B. Elliott, of Williamsfield, well known authority on farm organization methods, talked on the experience of the Chicago Producers Association, the Canadian wheat pools, and other movements fostering cooperation among farmers. The annual report of the Mutual Casualty Company of Chicago was made by M. A. Kern, general agent. He outlined the progress this farmer-owned insurance organization has made in its four years of operation and gave vigorous answer to an attack on the organization made recently by a farm periodical.

At the conclusion of Mr. Kern's talk a resolution was introduced recommending a suit against the farm publication which carried the unfavorable comment and against a number of publications which reprinted it. The resolution was carried unanimously by the meeting. A second resolution providing for a fund, for the expense of this suit and for a publicity campaign, to be raised by subscription among the charter members of the company, was also passed.

After a number of extemporaneous talks by delegates to the meeting a rally was held during which the members, as an expression of their confidence in the officers of the company, subscribed almost a million dollars in life insurance.

A luncheon and musical program preceded the meeting. Adverse weather conditions and impassable roads kept away several hundred who had signified their intention of attending.

Among those who attended the meeting were Henry Metz, Fred H. Busse, Herman Schwake of Arlington Heights; Edward Senne of Woodstock and C. O. Fischer of Bensenville.

Mr. W. E. Meier is a charter member of the Mutual Casualty Co., is an agent under contract to handle such business through his offices at Arlington Heights, Barrington and Woodstock.

Arlington Heights, Dist 56

School started again, Jan. 3, with only 12 pupils in attendance. We hope to see the rest soon.

Three new pupils have been enrolled in school. Their names are Marcella, Chester and Warren Zinkel. We have a new furnace at the school house for which we were very glad. We were able to keep warm in spite of the snow drifts. We had a large attendance at the Christmas entertainment. Santa seemed to treat every one very well. The Gaitsch family attended Grandma Gaitsch's birthday in Des Plaines Thursday evening.

ON COMING BACK

It has long been a mystery in our minds and even after so many opportunities of observation and experience, we are able to draw no definite conclusion. The question follows: Is the day before a much anticipated vacation the longest and most unbearable, or does the day of return lay claim to that title? We just don't know, but now that we're back we really are happy to be together again.

The entire organization at Arlington Heights high school is once again humming and everyone seems to have resumed his duties as though he had not left them for ten days of holiday pleasure.

It is a busy time for the students and their thoughts are immediately transferred from merry-making and fun to serious concern for the work. You see we are approaching the end of the first semester and this brings with it the well known final exams.

MASQUERS MEET

The Masquers' Dramatic Club met at 3:40 Wednesday afternoon. After a brief business session the meeting was turned over to Miss Roast who conducted a short period of laboratory work.

Experiments in the basic principles of acting are undertaken by the members and with each one giving an attitude of interest the result is an hour of fun and instruction for all.

Later, some of the new plays now showing will be read and discussed.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

FROM FILES OF THE PALATINE ENTERPRISE

July 5, 1902
Miss Rose Kuebler is sick.
There is some talk of a girl's cornet band being organized here.
Prof. J. I. Sears and wife left Tuesday to spend the summer in Boston.
Prof. W. L. Smyser is taking a summer course at the Chicago University.
Irving Beutler has secured a position with a scenic painting concern in Chicago.
Miss Selma Torgler entertained Misses Cora Luder and Gussie Rosenthal of Chicago over Sunday.
Mayor A. S. Olms is enjoying a three-weeks trip in Minnesota.
Mrs. O'Keefe of Arlington Heights, Misses Vashti Lambert and Rose Converse, expect to leave Friday for Minneapolis; the first two to attend the National teachers' meeting and the latter to visit relatives.

Lee Bissel has received $200 for injuries he received about six weeks ago while walking on the sidewalk.
Mr. Louis Keyes was married to Miss Millie Baker at the home of the bride, Sunday afternoon. It was a very quiet affair, only the immediate relatives being present. Rev. D. J. Holmes performed the ceremony, after which the wedding supper was served. The happy couple left on the 5:55 train that evening for Chicago. They will reside at Roselle, where Mr. Keyes has a lucrative business. The couple are well known here and they start life's journey with the best wishes of a host of friends.

Miss Eva Biggs was struck by the mail bag which was thrown from the through train at 6:20 Monday morning. She intended to take the 6:35 to Chicago and was walking towards the depot when the train came. She turned her back to the train and suddenly everything was a blank until she recovered her senses at home.
The Odd Fellows have had the entrance to their hall changed to the east side. The building is also to be painted.

Henry A. Harmsening has been playing excellent ball this season at Covington, Ind., judging from the reports of the game.

Jan. 3, 1903
John Slade is quite sick with typhoid fever.
Rev. Holmes preached as usual Sunday morning, but was too feeble to conduct services in the evening.
Miss Agnes Danielson entertained a few of her girl friends to an orange team last Saturday afternoon. The decorations were novel and the hostess strengthened her reputation as a royal entertainer.

Mr. Schriener, the efficient teacher of the Lutheran parochial school was tendered a charge in Chicago, but the congregation here met and voted to raise his salary and retain his services.

W. E. Shering has put in a 6 horse power gasoline engine to drive the machinery and do the hard work at his blacksmith and wagon shop. He now has a veritable factory and the industry is growing. Farmers have found out by experience that home-made wagons are the best and most durable.

A surprise party was given in honor of Misses May Kuebler and Annie Pohlmann in Battermann's hall, Friday evening, Dec. 26. The young people gathered at the hall, where they divided into two parties, one going to each house. When they returned the dancing commenced.

Palatine M. W. A. will give a masquerade ball Jan. 30, 1903.
The M. W. A. hold a public installation Saturday evening, Jan. 10.

Word comes from Chicago that Mr. Martin Swick is unable to move.

Within the coming month the Masquers plan to produce a one act play before the general assembly of students.
The plan for membership requires that each person appear in one production before becoming affiliated with the group. Try-outs for parts in the play will be held very soon and anyone desiring to take part is invited to participate in the try-out. Announcement of the time and place of try-out will be made later.
The executive committee of the Masquers has been delegated to select the play.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

From time to time special reports are assigned to different pupils in the science department. This week our contribution is that of Walter Hinrichs of the biology III A section. T. H. Wilson is the instructor.

REPRODUCTION OF FERNS

Ferns are found in almost every home. Some people take great pride in their ferns and give them care in the best way they know how.
Some people think their ferns have a disease when they see small dots of a brownish color on the leaves and stems of the fern. These small dots of a brownish color are spores and by these spores the ferns reproduce.

There are many different kinds of ferns, but all true ferns have spores. Ferns have true roots, stems and leaves, but reproduce like the mosses by forming spores.
For reproduction of ferns put the spores in a pot of soil with holes in the bottom of the pot and then set it in a dish of water in a warm room. If you water it on the top the spores will all wash to the side of the pot. The spores will grow into ferns.

In order to have a good fern one should give it plenty of moisture and heat.

Review of 1902 Tells of Much Building;

Costs from $1500 up

The building operations of the year have been as lively as in any previous year of the city's history, although they began late in the year and for a time it looked as though we had come to a standstill in this line. The local contractors, since these operations began, have had their hands full and have been unable to secure sufficient help to enable them to do the work as expeditiously as they desired, so that many buildings are still unfinished and their owners are waiting patiently to take possession. The Register will briefly summarize the work of the year in this line, without any attempt at superlatives or efforts in the descriptive line. The buildings erected have been as follows, the figures being approximate:

Chas. Frolich, house, $1,600
Chas. Frolich, barn, 300
Jas. Young, addition to house
John Gainer, house, 2,500
Wm. Wittenburg, barn, 700
Paul Beaton, house, 800
Mr. Gardner, barn, 500
D. Bergmann, barn, 1,900
D. Haffkamp, barn, 400
H. Senne, meat market, 1,400
Henry Schrader, house and barn, 2,700
Conrad Moehling, barn, 1,200
Martin Holland, barn, 1,200
Christ Hapke, house, 1,200
Mrs. Schoppe, barn, 700
F. Kuenger, house, 400
Wm. Krueger, barn, 1,000

The Register expects great things for Palatine during the year upon which we have entered and promises its hearty support to every measure that is designed to increase the business interests of Palatine and enhance the prosperity of its citizens.

Palatine is an up-to-date city, nearly all of the residences erected are supplied with city water, and all the modern conveniences so essential to comfortable living in these days of luxury. In spite of this large amount of building, there is still a pressing demand for more houses, especially of the kind that will rent at a reasonable price.

The life of the city has been marked by general good health, and there have been five deaths. The health of the city was never better, emphasizing the desirability of this locality as a place for residence.

The village board have extended the water mains four blocks, on Benton street, from Coifax to Sherman and on Slade street, from Smith to Center avenue, at a expense of $1,000, which will be a special assessment.

The sewerage system has been increased by six 18 of Old ditches for a expense of $500. The old sewer water runs into the lake and is a nuisance and a health hazard.

FRANKLIN PARK DEPARTMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Baur announce the birth of a son Saturday, December 31.
Mrs. Francis Watson is quite ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dunlap in Chicago. She was on her way to visit relatives in Fowler, Ind., when taken ill and was taken to the Dunlap home. Mrs. Watson has been the teacher of the seventh grade in the grammar school the past six years and had never been absent from her school room a day. Her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Prof. and Mrs. Frank Tatham Johnson and son, Carlton, of Urbana, Ill., were guests of the H. G. Taylor family over the week-end.
Mr. Samuel E. Taylor of Lincoln, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hallister and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ireland of Chicago, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Taylor New Years Day.

Mr. Everett Tullis, who is a student at the Indiana Dental College, Indianapolis, visited his aunt, Mrs. W. L. Beckham and family this week.

Rev. and Mrs. Baker of Sheridan, Ind., visited their son, S. E. Baker, and family a few days.

Reserve Tuesday, Jan. 9, for the entertainment by Miss Mayo, under the auspices of the January Circle of the Ladies' Aid. Tickets will be offered you soon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Grubbs entertained all the children and grandchildren of their family at dinner New Years Day.

The two flat building belonging to Mrs. Josephine Gablin, at the southwest corner of Gustave street and Minneapolis avenue, was discovered to be on fire Sunday p. m. The blaze, which was in the attic, and on the roof, was extinguished with only small damage to the building.

The regular monthly meeting of the Royal Neighbors, will be held Tuesday, Jan. 10, at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the public school building. A good attendance is desired, as the new officers will be installed at this meeting.

Mrs. Frances Watson, a teacher in the public school, was taken ill while visiting friends in Chicago, holiday week, and was not able to resume her school duties Tuesday.
Don't forget to feed the birds during the cold weather, especially while the ground is covered with snow, and all weed seeds and such things as they could otherwise find to eat, are buried beneath the snow. Any scraps of food from the table, or bread crumbs are eagerly eaten by them, if they can get them before some hungry dog or cat finds them. You will be repaid for any trouble by seeing how quickly the birds learn to know where to come for food. Some people will no doubt say, "They are only sparrows and deserve to freeze and starve, for they are such a nuisance." But the writer thinks they are not any greater nuisance than the half starved and ill treated dogs in Franklin Park.

Friends of the Richard Draper family were very sorry to hear of the death of their 15 year old son, Richard, Jr. He was ill only one week with typhoid fever, and died at the Oak Park hospital New Years day. Richard was born and raised in Franklin Park, and the family has the sympathy of the entire community. The funeral was held Jan. 4, interment at Elmwood cemetery.

The monthly business meeting of the official board of the M. E. church will be held Tuesday evening, Jan. 10, instead of Monday. The entertainment by Miss Mayo being Monday evening.

Miss Mayme Herff is spending two weeks with her sister in Chicago.

Mrs. VanCamp and daughters, Mary and Gladys, returned Monday from Watseka, where they visited over the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Thompson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Gells of Bensenville and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Blum and family at dinner Monday.

G. C. Vaughn is sick this week.

Franklin Park Has Progressed In Many Ways

The New Year has started and we ring it in with lots of noise, good cheer and resolutions that are just like election promises, forgotten within a month. Looking back over our year past, it seems only a short while since we were asked to vote for a Progressive Administration and it will be only a few short months before we will vote again. The administration to all appearances have progressed but we are sorry to add Franklin Park has not. Our streets which were in fairly good condition, were given no attention, although an appropriation is made for them. Even our paved streets were not maintained last year. There has been no endeavor on the part of the Village Board to cooperate with the people or ask assistance and collaboration with the people who pay the taxes. Without this essential item there can be no progress by any administration. But without the assistance of the administration, Franklin Park has progressed in another way.

The organizing of the school band was one and thanks should be given to Mr. Taylor and the donors who provided money for the instruments. This shows progress in one of the best ways. Also credit should be given those who organized the Girl Scout movement. The trustees, teachers and pupils of Leyden high school for their able work in making and adding improvements to their school. I know, too, that we are thankful to have in our community two very able men: Rev. Leiser of St. Gertrude's Catholic church and Rev. Henslee of the Methodist church. They have endeavored their best in not only in assisting their parishioners, but to help the community in all ways possible to them.

Mr. Nation deserves credit in trying to keep the brick yard out of our territory. It was too bad Mr. Nation couldn't have had more assistance in throwing bricks back at them. The Commercial Club did a few things in their quiet way last year, but we hope they will get a little noisier this year.

While we feel in the thankful mood, we ought to appreciate that our school boards are not in political control and we know all of us appreciate the good work done by our school trustees and members for the good of our children.

Last, but not least, to show the progressive spirit was the cantata given at our high school. This, too, had the direction of Mr. Taylor and the assistance and cooperation of those who participated to make its success. Those who attended cannot speak too highly in their praise of the enjoyable evening.

So the old year closed showing our progress in many ways and we hope the New Year will bring us more in the line of progress and community good will.

Palatine Lions To Entertain Neighbor Clubs on January 17

Palatine Lions Club has extended an invitation to neighboring clubs to meet with them Jan. 17. Palatine has not had the pleasure of entertaining members from other clubs for some time. Definite arrangements for the big event will be withheld until the number of acceptances can be learned.

From Tadpole to Frog

The bureau of fisheries says that the length of time that it takes a tadpole to become a full-grown frog depends entirely on the type of frog. For example, for a bullfrog about two years and for a tree frog anywhere from 50 to 90 days.

Hiding money in the ground is so prevalent in Ethiopia that although about 6,000,000 silver dollars are sent there from Austria every year, there are never more than 7,000,000 in circulation.

time for Christian training is in childhood. After character and habits are formed it is difficult to change them. "Train a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it." Public worship 11 a. m. Sermon subject: "The Terrible Mock." When Jesus said, "The meek shall inherit the earth," he expressed a tremendous truth, applicable in the realm of nature, as well as the realm of spirit. Where are the untamable monsters of the prehistoric past? The great carnivorous animals and reptiles that refuse to part with their savagery are being steadily exterminated. The power of God is "made perfect in weakness."

The Young People's Society meets at 7 p. m. Lawrence Pierce will lead. Chapter five of "The Spread of Christianity" will be discussed.

Catechetical Class Saturday 2 p. m. The Men's Club will have its monthly business meeting Saturday evening, Jan. 7th. Bowling plans and other important business will be discussed.

Be old-fashioned. Make New Year Resolutions! As a merchant takes an inventory, so we should occasionally take stock of ourselves. "Know Thyself" still remains the wisest command ever given to mortals. It is a good thing to occasionally sit down and "turn yourself inside out," to carefully analyze both motive and accomplishment; to seek the cause of failure and success. It is also wise to set before ourselves definite goals. "This will I do." "Thus far will I go." It focuses our energy. It gives purpose and direction to life. It saves us from the greatest and most prevalent of human sins—the evil of drifting through life. Therefore, on the day dawn of a New Year, dare to resolve. See yourself as though you were under the eyes of a Great Judge, unsparing in his searching. Resolve that in 1928 you will be honest with yourself; that you will recognize your own weakness and frankly face it. Dare to examine yourself. Dare to dream greatly. Dare to resolve. If you are sincere this New Year will be a blessing to humanity and to yourself.

This is a tale of six married and six single men who went to Lombard last Monday night to bowl. After the smoke of battle had lifted it was discovered that the married men had romped off with 3 out of 4 games. Moral: Get married. High score was 178, made by Mr. Earl Crandall.

We are glad to have Miss Ethel M. Pierce with us again. Miss Pierce returned to Roselle last Wednesday and will remain for a week. She has been engaged in religious education work in one of the large eastern churches. We are expecting her to give a talk to the Men's Class Sunday morning on the subject of religious education. And now we have to say goodbye to Miss Ruth Turner again. Miss Turner returns to Miss Mason's school, Farmington, N. Y., on Tuesday. We wish that she could stay with us longer.

Six brave little maidens fared forth into the raging blizzard Saturday afternoon for Catechetical class. The regular schedule was set aside and we had an afternoon of games and stories. Someone remarked that the weather was too severe for any boys to venture out. The meeting of the Young People's Society Jan. 8th will be led by Lawrence Pierce. Chapter five of "The Spread of Christianity" will be discussed.

Some body once said: "Mud thrown is ground lost." "No brain is stronger than its weakest link." "I can make a lord, but only God can make a gentleman." (James 1). A. L. L. NOTES, ROSELLE, ILL.

At the last monthly meeting the annual election of officers took place. The following were elected: Louis Haberkamp, president. O. Bokelmann, vice president. E. Gieseke, treasurer. Edna Haberkamp, secretary. The treasurer's report revealed some interesting figures. More than $1200 passed thru his hands during the current year.

The next meeting of the local will be held Friday evening, Jan. 6. All members are urged to be present. The officers of the A. L. L. have a real surprise for the community. They have booked that delightful comedy "Money! Money! Money!" Nearly everyone has seen it advertised in different villages, but very few have had the privilege of seeing it. The play has been on the market, but for a short time, but it probably is one of the most spoken of plays today. The play will be given once. Reserve Thursday evening, Jan. 12, for Money! Money! Money! The play will be given in the Lutheran School Hall.

EV. IMMANUEL CHURCH

The holiday dates, festivities and programs have all transpired in regular order. The Xmas program was attended by a full house. The meeting of the Ladies' Aid took place last Wednesday afternoon in spite of unfavorable weather. It was intended as a kind of "dedication" of the parsonage, which had undergone some remodeling during the last year, and was just about completed by Xmas time.

Prof. Lueder of Elmhurst was present at the meeting and spoke on the text, "Rabbi, where dwellest thou?" Job. 7:38. The speaker expressed the idea that Jesus had no home of his own during his sojourn on earth, but that now he wanted to dwell in every home, yes, in every heart. The idea of making improvements on the parsonage was first discussed a year ago in the annual meeting, and assumed definite shape as soon as funds came in supporting the idea. During the summer months Mrs. Brodbeck and added a new room in the form of a sun parlor. Mr. Alb. Duntmann changed the outward appearance by the application of a few coats of paint. R. Laho of Bensenville did the plumbing work, installing a furnace. Waterworks and bath room fixtures. Mr. Wm. Seuf, Aug. Dallmeier and C. Stahlmann helped in different ways to straighten out things in and around the place. The Ladies' Aid put on a finishing touch of papering and painting the kitchen and Mr. Robillard donated a fine piece of linoleum.

The parsonage is now thoroughly renovated, repaired, and improved. It is well equipped, pleasant and convenient, harmonizes better with the new church building, and is a credit to the congregation. Thus the new year was ushered in under new conditions, with renewed interest, and with a determination to carry the idea of renewal into all departments of work in the congregation. The pastor, F. O. Claussen and family gratefully appreciate the better conditions and feels himself reinforced toward greater efforts in his line.

SCHAUMBURG

All Schaumburg certainly was snow bound from Friday until Monday, when F. W. Botterman, town commissioner, and Emil Schnadt, a local contractor, men got busy with a gang of men and did some fast work. Most main roads are passable now.

F. Salge and Ray Nebel helped Hugo Gerscheffe load a car of hay last Friday and Saturday, which he bought of Louis Kastning. They had a great time in all that snow and drifts.

Hugo Gerscheffe took a trip to Chicago delivering a bunch of pigs, which he bought of Mrs. W. D. Wilkening. He got his share of the snow drifts, but as a hustler, did not mind it much.

Mrs. C. Moe spent a few days taking care of her sister-in-law at Barrington, who is sick. She returned just before the big snow.

The little daughter of R. D. Gerscheffe is quite sick. We all hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Winkler spent New Years with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Winkler, here.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Engel celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary last Sunday enjoying the evening playing buncle. Leaving, they all wished good success many happy returns.

Reynold Wille and wife took a trip to Wisconsin and visited their parents last week Thursday, returning just ahead of the big snow.

As there was no service Old Years Eve on account of the heavy snow drifts, a surprise was put over on our janitor, F. Salge. As he was about ready to lock up, four big strappy ranchers, wearing overalls entered the other still unlocked door about 7:50 p. m. The janitor not knowing the meaning of this at first didn't know what to say, and asked them what happened. They said, "we follow our orders," and they proceeded to help take down the Christmas tree. The job was completed by 9:00 p. m. when they gave their Lizzies the once-over. The four buckskinners from eastern ranches were Martin Kruse, Pfingsten Bros. and Emmett Broke. Members of the St. Petri Lutheran church choir. "Hoofed it through the heavy snow drift over here. The janitor said thanks for your kindness. After reaching home they celebrated the old year out and the new year in by telling stories and having lunch served by Mr. and Mrs. Broke. Leaving they wished each other Happy New Years.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Litchardt from Elgin, Mr. and Mrs. H. Litchardt from Roselle celebrated New Years with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Litchardt.

The game between the Eastern and Western stars, ended in a one sided game, 5 to 1 in favor of the Western Star, which was played at the Main dining room, at one of the Western residences. F. Salge, Fred Engel, R. Wille, Ray Nebel, Frank Winkler are busy helping commissioner F. W. Botterman opening the roads for traffic. Henry Salge, A. Sporleder, Al. Geistsfeld are helping E. Schrage on the state road.

Superior Man

The latest estimate of the number of stars is 30,000,000,000, which makes humans look insignificant. Nevertheless, humans can number the stars, while no stars, so far as known, have ever made a census of humans.—Topska Daily Capital.

BENSENVILLE DEPARTMENT

GUY SAMPSON, Local Editor and Agent

Mary O'Keefe of Madison, Wis., spent the holiday week visiting her mother, brother and sister at Bensenville. She and her mother visited her aunt at her Oak Park home Friday.

The DiVall family visited the George Sanger family in Chicago. Both families were formerly residents of Waukegan, Wis., and surely enjoy getting together and talking over days gone by in that beautiful little city.

Mr. Luepking and family entertained his mother over Christmas. The Salsgraber family visited relatives at Perry, Iowa Christmas.

Mrs. Thor Klevan and family enjoyed a visit from her aunt who spent the week-end at their home.

Grandma Cooper, mother of Mr. George Shaw, visited friends in Chicago two days last week.

As usual, a New Years Eve party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Geils. Three couples and the three Bensenville bachelors helped the Geils family watch the old year out and the New Year in and report having enjoyed the entire evening.

Miss Esther Knaack, celebrated another of her birthdays Monday evening, Jan. 2, at the home of her parents in Elk Grove. Miss Knaack is employed at the Ed. Sprandel store and being a great favorite among the younger set found a great crowd ready to assist her in the celebration.

Another year was ushered in at midnight Saturday and many a jolly party was staged in town for the benefit of certain citizens and their friends. Each and every one report having had a wonderful time. May the good will and friendship shown at these gatherings continue throughout the entire year.

Another boxing bout will be staged at the local hall Thursday evening, Jan. 12. The last exhibition was enjoyed by several hundred people and it is expected that as this card is to be equally as good, if not better, than the last, that all should arrange to get tickets as soon as possible as only a limited number can be sold as the club will not sell more tickets than the capacity of the house. A number of our young men are beginning to discuss the advisability of taking lessons in boxing. It surely is a good clean sport and something that enables every fellow to scientifically protect himself should the occasion arise.

Some real winter weather has at last reached our city. Buttoned up overcoats and caps pulled down over the ears, is seen on every street. It rather surprised our citizens after having such pleasant weather all along. The youngsters sure enjoy the sleighing and skating which is their chief sport when the weather permits it. Our local coal dealers are kept busy and we are all thankful that they have a good supply of the black diamonds in stock to supply every one.

Mr. and Mrs. Bodenberger visited their daughter and her family at Palatine Monday.

The Sutherland family enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Sutherland's brother, over the holidays.

Thursday evening, Jan. 12, regular meeting of Bensenville P. T. A. All are invited to attend and make this the first meeting of 1928 one long to be remembered. Don't forget that your children are very much interested in having their room get the picture this month. Attendance counts.

James Coward sprang a surprise on his friends here Dec. 28, by returning from his old Indiana home with a bride, Mr. Coward, who, some several years ago, has managed to keep his home up by engaging married couples to share his home with him. But had finally decided that home was not really a home with strangers in charge of it. He then decided to wed Mrs. Hazel Marsh of Vincennes, Ind., whose former husband died leaving her with two little daughters to raise. She had known the groom since her girlhood days and realizing that they were both in a position to make each other happier and give the little girls better advantages, decided to become the wife of our esteemed citizen, Mr. Coward, who is an employee of the C. M. & St. P. Ry., while his bride is the daughter of a railroad conductor for whom Mr. Coward worked before he came to the Milwaukee a few years ago. Many friends here wish them both a long and happy life together.

Mrs. Chas Thomas and adopted son, Berry, of Ojo, Colorado, who have been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Dontrich, south of town, returned to their western home Tuesday after having enjoyed the holidays here. Hope they don't find it so cold there as it was here.

Bensenville Camp of Modern Woodmen of America held their regular meeting last Friday evening at Franzens Hall. Although the night was stormy, a good number of the members attended the meeting which was the night of their annual election of officers. The following officers were elected: Robt. Pilgrim, V. C.; E. F. Prehm, Advisor; J. G. Frey, Clerk; W. H. Keobbejan, Banker; W. Oiharbel, Escort; E. Mueller, Guard; Geo. Warneka, Sentry; Aug. Frey, manager.

The members contemplate much activity this year and as Bensenville now has several young men, who are not as yet affiliated with any fraternal organizations, expect before the close of the year, to have many of them enrolled as members. Aside from the insurance feature the social side of the organization has many inducements to offer the young men of the community. January 23 will be the next regular meeting, when the newly elected officers will be installed and take their office. The entertainment committee has already begun laying plans to make that meeting a pleasure for all. It is hoped that every member of the Camp will notify the chairman of the committee to count them in when he figures out his list of cats and smokes.

WE BEG YOUR PARDON. Mistakes will happen, even in a newspaper office as happened last week in ours. No, our druggist has not sold out to Mr. Lawman, even if the type setter did advertise Mr. Lawman as proprietor of the Bensenville Pharmacy in the full page New Years Greetings of the Bensenville business men. Well that was last year and we will try and not let it happen this year. Mr. Sayles is still in charge of the drug store and doing a nice business and Mr. Lawman is satisfied with his fast growing business in the meat and grocery business. Thanks, to satisfy yourself that this is so, call on both of them when in need of anything in their lines.

Weigh-in After Wedding. At a wedding celebration at Schotten, in Hesse, Germany, the guests were weighed before and after the feast. One man put on five pounds and several others three pounds. The total increase of weight of the guests was nearly 154 pounds.

Started Great Work. On August 29, 1880, congress enacted a law providing for the endowment of colleges of agriculture and mechanic arts. The money for this was to come from the sale of public lands, and the amount to be expended was $25,000.

Reciprocity. Those who hear a sermon broadcast over the radio really ought to broadcast a little something back for the collection plate.—Cincinnati Times-Star

LOCAL EVENTS IN BENSENVILLE

FLORENCE HEIM, EDITOR

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph White, York street, were very busy people during the Christmas holidays. Their cousin, Mr. Harry Jensen, of Chicago, spent a few days with them. New Years Eve some relatives and friends from Wisconsin paid them a visit.

Tuesday, Jan. 3, the daily routine at the Bensenville gymnasium and high schools, began again. Students, who had 10 glorious days of vacation resumed studies in their various classes. No more holidays for a long, long time.

Mrs. Stephen of Maston street, had a visitor from Washington over Christmas and New Years.

Miss Iva Miller, Pine and York streets, was confined to her bed last week by a severe cold. She was very much disgusted with herself and the whole world in general for being indisposed during the holiday time.

First Evangelical church was to have a Watch Night program New Years Eve, but it was so very cold and the snow so deep that only about 25 members were present. Those who had a part in the program were present and so those who did attend were duly entertained. Miss Bernice Brinton played the saxophone; Miss Alice Renter, the piano; while Dorothy Peck and Ruth Renter sang a very appropriate New Years song. Etienne Hugdahl rendered a beautiful violin solo, and to end the delightful program, Mrs. Peck gave a wonderful reading called "The Little Shepherd Who Didn't Go." After this the entire group went over to the pastors home, where Mrs. Renter served a delicious and appetizing lunch. The girls and boys then gathered about the piano and raised their voices in song. At 12:00 o'clock sharp Ralph Koize rang the church bell, the yard whistles began to blow and everybody went home wishing everybody else a very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Kossack, who now live on Addison street, and their family, intend to leave Bensenville sometime in March or April. Their new home will be in Algonquin. Miss Rosine Kossack is staying in that town now, but her folks will not join her until later in the year. The reason, undoubtedly, for their remaining here, is to insure Ruth's graduation from the Junior year of high school.

Mr. and Mrs. B. I. LaSalle, Orchard avenue, spent the New Year holidays with Mr. LaSalle's brother and his wife, in Chicago. They had a difficult time getting to the station here in Bensenville, but they declare it was well worth their while because of the lovely time they had.

The Masonic organization of Bensenville gave a New Years party at Franz Hall, Saturday evening, Dec. 31. In spite of the very cold weather, there were many guests at the entertainment. They danced and generally cut-up until late next morning. The broom dance and the ladies robber two step were two very interesting fun providers. After all the guests had danced and enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent, refreshments were served at 3 o'clock. The meeting service reflects amiability, efficiency, understanding, experience. We do not worry the bereaved with details, nor do we leave details for them to worry about.

MT. PROSPECT DEPARTMENT

Mt Prospect to Expend a Quarter of a Million for Street Improvements

Tuesday evening the Mt. Prospect Board of Local Improvements held their first meeting this year and things started out with a bang. Ordinances totalling better than a quarter of a million dollars were passed and referred to the village board for further action. The ordinances passed were as follows: Water mains in the Lounsbury Country Club subdivision south of the creek estimated cost of $37,450.00. Water mains in Lauderdale Villa with an estimated cost of $41,500.00, and two concrete paving jobs one for Lounsbury Blvd., estimated cost $19,500.00 and the other the northern part of the Country Club subdivision with an estimated cost of $188,500.00. With this start in the new year we naturally can look forward to a year that will mean as many if not greater improvements than the past year which is something we are all pleased to see as to make progress it is only natural to try and do better than was done in the year which has just closed.

Our village board held their regular monthly meeting January 3, with all trustees present and Wm. Busse presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read and so approved. The treasurer's report was also read and after some consideration was ordered placed on file. The finance committee reported that all bills had been approved by the proper committee and upon motion duly made and seconded they were ordered paid.

The question of the bonds for both the Village Treasurer and the Village Collector were discussed and as the board felt they were handling considerable more money than before it would be policy to have both of these officers increase their present bonds by about an additional $50,000.00.

The attorney for the Albert Pick properties was next heard and he presented a petition for the paving of their Centralwood subdivision, this was referred to the engineers for action with instructions to prepare the necessary plan and estimate and submit them to the board at their next meeting.

The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. presented a request for a permit so that they would be enabled to move as well as replace some of their poles, this permit was granted subject to the approval of the street and sidewalk committee.

Another permit was granted the Public Service Co., to install a number of gas mains on certain streets so as to supply gas to new residences in our limits.

Our village engineer called at tention of the Board members to the fact that a complete set of maps covering all the improvements made up to the present day were now on file in the village hall. As there was no further business to come before the board the meeting adjourned.

Chief Mulso was given an opportunity to try out the new snow plow the past week and judging from the condition of our streets the plow is in first class shape. One thing that must be said it went through the deepest drifts and left a path that was a path wide enough for any machine to go past without finding it necessary for the driver to get out and do the digging exercise.

The holidays are past and now everybody is getting back to business with plenty of hope and ambition to make the new year a more prosperous one than the one just passed although it cannot be said that the past year has been a bad one.

In recent interviews with several of the leading merchants we are led to believe that the citizens of our village will see some real merchandising in the way of sales that will have values that it will be hard to exceed no matter what one would do. It is not possible at this time to give full details but we hope in the near future to be able to give our readers the entire line-up of what is coming but as all things must be planned and made positive we feel it would be an injustice to these merchants to give out information before hand.

On Thursday evening, Dec. 29, the annual Christmas of St. Paul's Lutheran church took place. The basement of the church was appropriately decorated and the Christmas trees were well laden with parcels. In the early part of the evening buncos was played, with many lovely and useful prizes in readiness for the lucky winners.

Next came the distribution of the parcels which adorned the Christmas trees. A charge of 25 cents per parcel was made and the contents proved a good bargain.

Sandwiches, cake and coffee were served by the members of the Ladies' Aid Society. May the smile that Rev. Mueller defined so beautifully in his remarks remain on our faces during the entire year.

The Campfire girls escorted by their guardian Miss Bertha Ehard spent both a delightful and instructive day at the Field Museum on Thursday, Dec. 29. They left in the forenoon and made a day of it. Miss Ehard has given much time, energy and in many instances financial contributions to the activities of the Campfire Girls during the past year, and may she and "her girls" enjoy a Happy New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Maleske entertained friends on Friday evening, Dec. 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kuger celebrated the going out of the old year and coming in of the new year by inviting several friends and their families on Dec. 31. A midnight lunch was served.

About thirty "young folks" enjoyed a New Years Eve party at the home of Mrs. Chas. Ratuke of Maple St. The party lasted until after the awakening of 1928.

Mr. and Mrs. Knosp entertained friends at their home on Tuesday January 3rd.

NORTHFIELD

Miss Gladys Giss of Libertyville visited her cousins, the Mayer girls over Sunday.

Bert Barthelemow and family attended a goose dinner with relatives in Elmhurst Wednesday.

Most of the roads were impassable Sunday, therefore the only 2 attended church and S.S. A very fine sermon was heard and one lady united with the church.

Items are rather scarce this week on account of bad roads and extremely cold weather.

Do not forget the quarterly business meeting to be held Saturday at 7:30 p. m. at the church. Prayer meeting, choir practice and catechism instructions to be held.

Rev. Byas, our presiding elder, will preach, also administer communion service Sunday morning. Everybody welcome. Come and worship with us.

Harry Johnson and family were called to Ashton, Ill. on account of the death of his mother. They returned Thursday.

Rev. Johnson, minister of the Deerfield Evangelical church, who is a brother of Harry, also attended the funeral.

Clarence Dobbins of Arlington Heights spent the holidays with his cousin, Curtis Davis.

School reopened Tuesday after a joyous Xmas vacation. Only 75 pupils were present on account of cold weather.

The Ladies' Aid of Immanuel Lutheran church, hired a bus and motored out and surprised Mrs. Henry Hasselman Friday at 1 o'clock. Various games were played after which a delightful lunch was served. At 4:30 the bus came and called for the ladies. Everyone went home announcing Mrs. Hasselman a perfect hostess. Those present were: Mesdames Hansen, Schiefelheim, Markworth, W. G. Wille, Geils, Schibbe, Meyer, Whetstone, John Moehling, Duerkop, Rev. Pieper, Geo. Behrens, Arndt, Herman Seegers, L. B. Scharringhausen, Krieff, Bielefeldt, Wm. Daughter: "Oh, a cow would give more milk than we would need for two. A calf would be just right."

EAST MAINE

Mrs. Kate Beto of Park Ridge, one of our old friends and neighbors was reported to be very ill shortly after Christmas, but word received later stated that she was slightly improved.

Mrs. Wm. E. Moeller entertained her fellow Ladies' Aid members at her home Dec. 28. The occasion was really a belated celebration of the pearl wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Moeller and in honor of which Mrs. Moeller received a beautiful pearl necklace from the Ladies as a remembrance. The guests enjoyed a lively game of buncos and were served a delicious luncheon before departing.

The annual business meeting of St. Matthews Lutheran Congregation will be held Sunday, Jan. 15, at 2 p. m. All voting members are urged to attend.

M. and Mrs. Henry Koch are proud and happy parents of a fine baby boy who arrived as a belated Christmas present, Dec. 27.

The first meeting of the new year of St. Matthews' Ladies Aid will be held in the school hall Wednesday evening, Jan. 11. Mrs. Wm. R. Tagtmeier, Mrs. Julius Toepel and Mrs. Louise Voss will serve.

In spite of the snow and sudden drop in temperature, Mr. Fred W. Holm of Blue Island braved the elements to attend the meeting of the board of Directors of the Cook County Farmers' Mutual Ins. Co., held at August Geweke's residence, Friday, Dec. 10. Mr. Holm made the trip in his Buick, spending the night with the John Jaacks family and returned home Dec. 31.

The annual meeting of the Cook County Truck Gardeners and Farmers Association will be held Saturday afternoon, January 14, 1928, in the Masonic Hall, Jefferson Park, Ill. Entertainers and speakers will be on hand to furnish the attending members diversion and interesting data in addition to the annual reports of president and secretary and the summary of the year's accomplishments of the association.

As a decided contrast to the mild weather of Christmas came the sub zero snap accompanied by drifts of snow which greeted the New Year. Many of the country roads were blocked and were practically impassable two days. State roadmen were soon on the job and kept the roads under their jurisdiction open for traffic, working practically day and night, while residents along the side roads resorted to united efforts with trusty shovels to dig their way clear.

Traffic was considerably curtailed the fore part of the week, by the decree of king winter. Vast concentrations of fuel stores were also directed by this monarch. ## Chasers Entertain Racers at Party

Members of the "Chasers" side were hosts and hostesses to the "Racers" at a party given in the Presbyterian church parlor on Friday evening, this being the culmination of a contest run among older members of the Sabbath school, during the month of December. The members had been chosen by two leaders and the names Racers and Chasers adopted. Progress in the contest was recorded as follows: Attendance, on point per member; bringing of a Bible, one point per member; being first in finding a given Bible verse, 5 points and bringing a pupil to the school 25 points. Sides were well balanced, interest was keen. The conclusion of the contest on Dec. 25, showed the following record: Racers 309 points; Chasers, 291 points.

In spite of the blizzard out of doors 45 members of the school had a happy time at the party where spirits were high, and with competition forgotten, good fellowship reigned.

Announcing The VICTORY SIX BY DODGE BROTHERS

from an engineering standpoint The Victory is radically new, radically different and thoroughly original — is literally years ahead of its time in many vital features.

In a very real sense, too, it compares with no other car or class, because NO car, either here or abroad, provides features that are comparable. To enjoy these advantages you must buy THIS car, for elsewhere they simply do not exist.

Revolutionary New Principles of Design

1. For the first time since the invention of the automobile, the chassis and body of The Victory are a single integral unit—the wide, deep Victory chassis frame, flush with the lines of the body, replaces the customary body sills. (Heretofore, the body was mounted on a sill and both in turn mounted on the chassis.)

2. For the first time in history, battleship construction (i.e., double steel walls) is here applied to the motor car.

Spectacular Performance

The results of these, and other basic innovations are astonishing in their effect on every phase of motor car value; beauty, comfort, safety, strength and most impressive and important of all—performance itself.

With chassis and body a single unit, there are 330 fewer parts—175 pounds less weight—and an extremely low center of gravity.

The results are greater motor efficiency—increased power—quicker pick-up—greater stability and flexibility in relation to load—an easier car to handle—a faster car to drive!

21 miles to the gallon at 25 miles per hour is precisely what you can expect—with sustained high speed all day long at instant call!

Drive over cobbles and await the usual discomfort—it will never occur! The Victory is the smoothest riding car, for its type, ever built.

Safe, Strong and Stable

Because the chassis frame conforms precisely with the body lines—and because of the car's low center of gravity (weight close to the ground) The Victory is remarkably stable—tipping, skidding and swaying are reduced to a point positively negligible!

Turn a sharp corner and you will understand!

And the double steel walls mean double protection in case of accident—double the safety of any type yet known. A staunch body, with doors that close with a substantial and non-metallic snap.

Quiet and Comfortable

The aim of all engineering is simplicity, for simplicity means economy—strength—SILENCE. There are only 8 major parts in The Victory body—and they are welded into a single unit. Not a joint to squeak or rattle. A silent body.

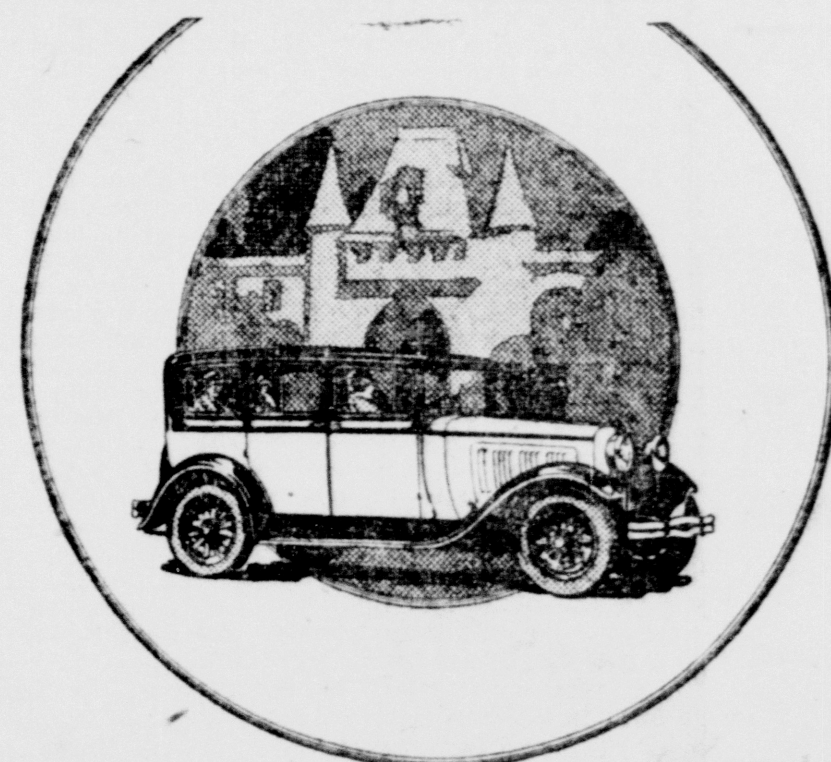

And Dodge Brothers powerful new six-cylinder motor—specially engineered for The Victory—preserves this luxurious quietness at all speeds.

A Car of Striking Beauty

Body and chassis built as a single unit—without the customary body sill—permits lower over-all height with liberal head-room and road-clearance.

Splash shields, a constant source of noise and annoyance are replaced by the wide, deep Victory chassis frame; wide, heavy-gauge one-piece fenders and drum-type head-lamps are provided. Upholstery, hardware, instruments, color combinations and other appointments satisfy the most exacting demands of style and good taste.

Indeed, you have a distinct and thrilling impression that the car in which you are riding is long, low, swift and safe—a car of surpassing originality and smartness down to the smallest detail.

Thrilling Crook Drama at Both Uptown - Tivoli

Ben Hecht's "Underworld," which is already being nominated by critics everywhere as the likely winner of the medal to be given for the best picture to be produced during 1927, is to be shown on the screens of both the Tivoli and Uptown Theaters, Monday, January 9.

This story of Chicago's gang wars and the private love affairs of the outstanding gunmen, has lifted George Bancroft to stardom as the result of his characteristic portrait of "Bull" Weed, killer and lover of the Windy City's underworld. Bancroft's portrayal of a robber, gem-thief, gangster and gunman is one of the most human ever brought to the screen and has set a style in "crook" acting that reaches far. Ably supporting Bancroft are Evelyn Brent and Clive Brooks who play the roles of the two real friends to "Bull" against many difficulties. Larry Semon furnishes comedy relief, as a dude crook, while Fred Kohler rises to stardom in his role as head of a rival gang. The flight is cancelled and a spectacular plan ensues to aid "Bull's" cheating the gallery, which fails. The gangster's ingenious mind contrives a bold plan on the spur of the moment, and he is then seen free, eager for revenge from his two aides, who he has heard have doublecrossed him. Police surround his flat—machine guns, armored motorcycles and squad cars are brought into play in an extremely thrilling gun battle. A supreme sacrifice by the heroic gunman, thus enabling his two friends to love freely, brings the story to a long-remembered climax.

Chicago Theatre Has Triple-Hit Bill Monday

A triple hit bill will be presented at the Chicago Theatre this next week, of January 9, with the triumphal return of Jesse Crawford for a limited engagement, to the theater where his first fame was won and from which he went to New York, where he has scored an overwhelming success at the new Paramount Theatre. Jesse Crawford has been recognized by Broadway in sensational fashion. His return here is to celebrate the success of the more Balaban and Katz feature.

Under a creepy, weirdly mysterious "Don After Midnight," one of the greatest mystery dramas in Lon Chaney has ever appeared in. It will be the feature picture. It is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, written and directed by Tod Browning, who is responsible for several other Chaney successes. The plot deals with a baffling murder, which draws Lon Chaney, as master detective of Scotland Yard, into the picture. Hypnotism and touches of the spirit world combine to chill the blood and rivet the attention like no other mystery drama.

"Stepping High" will be the stage production, under the efficient direction of Jules Buffano, conductor of the Chicago Theatre Stage Orchestra. It is a pleasing conglomeration of dancing, acrobatics, and tantalizing harmony singing.

Garbo and Gilbert Co-Star in "Love" At the Roosevelt

Greta Garbo, famous Swedish screen charmer, who is appearing in that stirring feature film, "Love," with John Gilbert, at the Roosevelt Theater, won her first fame by working for the king. This is on little fact in connection with one of the most interesting personalities on the screen today, the heroine of "The Torrent," the "Temptress," and "Flesh and the Devil," who plays Anna Karenina in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new vehicle.

Miss Garbo got her start in the Royal Dramatic School in Stockholm, operated by the crown, as in the Royal State Theater, of which it is the training school. So the king was really her first employer.

The daughter of a Swedish merchant, Miss Garbo early evinced dramatic talent and was placed in the school, where her rise was rapid. She appeared in a number of important stage plays and then, almost overnight, reaped screen fame in "Goesta Berling," when Mauritz Stiller, famous Swedish director, chose her for the role from her work on the stage. This picture led to her being engaged by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and brought her to America, where she made her debut in this country in "The Torrent," and followed this with a sensational film hit in "The Temptress."

In "Flesh and the Devil," John Gilbert and she scored a huge hit, and the same combination heads the cast in her latest picture, with Gilbert as Count Vronsky, and Miss Garbo as Anna Karenina.

"Thunderland" Marbro By Benny Meroff

One of the most unusual scenes presented for some time on the stages of Chicago theatres is in Benny Meroff's "Thunderland" which comes to the Marbro theatre, starting Monday, January 2. It is a transformation scene which changes from a thunderstorm with flashing lightning, rain and dark clouds to a summer scene of surpassing beauty. A huge figure of Jove is at one side of the stage which raises its arms, hurls a thunder bolt across the scene and the augmented band does a crashing storm number.

This new production the first of the New Year has a splendid cast including the world famous Loomis twins, darlings of songland, Walter Bradbury, Roberts and Clark, Brangdon & Morrissey, Carl Byal, Leeta Hope and many others.

Hail Mark Fisher's Return to Harding

Mark will be back Monday! For seven weeks the Harding Theatre patrons have been awaiting the news that Mark Fisher, the velvet-voiced singing director, will return to the scene of his early triumphs and take up his baton as a regular attraction for alternate weeks.

Fisher's six weeks' engagement at the Oriental Theater where he battled for the great Paul Ash has made him even stronger in the esteem of all Chicago and Northwest side theater-goers plan to show him a giant reception when he returns Monday.

A gala home-coming show is being planned in his honor. It will be called "Welcome Home," and feature Mark singing his famous ballads, directing his own Merry Melody Masters in snappy syncope and introducing a large cast of favorites in variety offerings.

Fisher's latest song hit will be used as the theme number of the production. The number is, "Everywhere You Go," and its popularity bids fair to surpass his previous hit, "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight." Mark will probably sing both and that promises keen entertainment to the audience.

The screen will be occupied with captivating Clara Bow in a frisky French farce, "Get Your Man," which is said to be more spirited than "Rough House Rosie," and more thrilling than "Hula." Buddy Rogers who played opposite her in "Wings," does like wise in the vehicle.

Clara is seen as the American flapper who runs rampant in Paris and sets her heart on winning the handsome Rogers who is betrothed to a girl by family arrangement. A series of hilarious situations follow with Clara in the midst of scheming, fighting and finally "getting her man." It's Clara in her most winning role.

Remember way back when—How plaint is your memory? How far can you look back and what reaction do you get from your backward flight of fancy?

It's great fun to indulge in a memory test, especially if your memory recalls funny delicious things that meant so much in your past.

Paul Ash just loves to do it. And the Rajah is of the opinion that other do too. For that his next chapter of stage merriment dedicated to the further amusement of Chicago's thousands who will gather next week at the Oriental Theater will be called "Way Back When."

And since the Rajahs shows are never misnomers his fans are in for a delightful time. Paul will burlesque the days when bicycles were built for two; when wasp waists were the last word in fashions and pompadours were women's crowning glory instead of the present boyish bob.

And Paul's merry-mad gang will blow up brass in the fashion of the old-time jazz band. But the ump-umpa, umpa of the street drum band will also come in for its share, for that, too, belongs in the day "Way Back When."

The screen attraction for the week will bring together again W. C. Fields and Chester Conklin, in their second co-starring comedy feature, "Two Flaming Youths."

This is a story of drifters and grafters with a circus background laid in a small town locale. Mary Brian blends a beautiful romance into the production.

"Shepherd of Hills" To Follow 'Gorilla' At McVickers Next

Motion picture records for long location trips, measured by time and distance, were broken by Albert Rogell in directing "The Shepherd of Hills," an elaborate film version of the Harold Bell Wright novel coming soon to the McVickers Theatre.

Various portions of Arkansas, Missouri and Utah, as well as studio scenes taken in California, were used in the production. Charles R. Rogers produced for the First National Pictures. A total of over 3,500 miles was covered by the entire company of fifteen actors, forty extras, and a technical staff of seventy men.

Three months were spent by Rogers' company away from the studios, traveling by special train, automobile, wagon and pack train. Only interiors were filmed at the studios in California after all the exteriors had been filmed.

The Utah scenes were those including huge herds of sheep, Ozark Mountain scenes included those in which log cabins, streams and a grist mill were used.

Alec B. Francis, Molly O'Day, John Boles, Matthew Betz, Romaine Fielding and Otis Harlan, portray the main characters of the famous novel. Marion Jackson wrote the adaptation of the book.

Chinese Treasures Hidden

Somewhere in western China there is believed to be a buried treasure of the Manchou emperors of the old dynasties stored their precious stones, manuscripts and other treasures in times of trouble. If the Chinese know of its exact whereabouts they have kept the secret well among themselves, though many furtive searches have been made by others.

Elephant Ignores Fences

An elephant which escaped from a circus at Newtown, Australia, recently, evidently considered fences beneath his notice, for he walked through them without stopping. Pedestrians and vehicles were narrowly missed and gardens destroyed before he was captured in a nearby town.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday—special sales at Hartmann's shoe store.

Mrs. W. J. Hausam's holiday season has been clouded with apprehension because of the serious illness of her sister in a Chicago hospital to whose bedside she makes frequent visits.

Mr. Albin Flodine who is with the Cable Piano Company helped in placing a piano in the Mt. Prospect school Monday. He missed his train and walked home finding the distance between the two towns rather greater than we are trying to make it on the realtors' plate.

Mrs. Cruickshank writing to her friends here January 1, says "Today we have snow and 16 degrees above, but it never lasts more than three or four days." She spoke of rosebuds and other garden beauties 10 miles from Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Oepel and sister, Mrs. Nehring from Stieger visited their sisters, Mrs. Blum and Mrs. Garland at Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Mors entertained a family group in their home Sunday.

Mrs. Augusta Garland's brother, Dr. Fricke, her sister, Mrs. Wittbold and other relatives visited her Sunday in the home of her son, Wm. Garland.

Mrs. Gall, the honored mother of Rev. Father Gall, of St. James church, died in the home of her daughter in the city Monday morning. Mrs. Gall was well known and highly esteemed by all who knew her in Arlington Heights. Her devoted son made daily trips to see her during her last days on earth.

Himself, not well, he went in to be at her bedside only a short time before her passing away. There will be requiem mass for the dead in St. James Wednesday.

Mrs. Elmo Williams gave a little party Friday night last week in her home in honor of Mrs. Gordon Buehl who was here on a short visit. The guests were members of the old time group of girls who used to enjoy their "good times" together. And in this last gathering under Mrs. Williams' hospitable care they proved a good time was still theirs.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Buel and daughter left her Sunday for their new home in Omaha.

Tuesday last week Mrs. W. W. Guild attended a meeting of the district official board at Irving Park.

Thursday, January 5th Mrs. W. W. Guild and Mrs. H. Behrel attended a meeting of the Seventh District Federation of Clubs at Albany Park. They had the pleasure of listening to a fine address by Judge Padden on present day morals, and also an interesting address by Mrs. Seymour, president state federation of women's clubs.

Erwin Meyer returned to St. Luke's hospital Sunday night for treatment. He spent ten days in the hospital prior to Christmas.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, who passed away Jan. 10, 1927.

Just one year ago, Mother dear, you passed away, And how we miss you no words can say.

The pleasures that our hearts once knew; Are sad and lonesome after you, With our God's great help, we hope and we pray,

That we will all meet again some day.

Herman F. Lewis and Family.

Twenty-five persons who have passed the tests of the state board of law examiners received their diplomas from the supreme court a few days ago. A motion to admit the class was made by Attorney Walter Bellatti, Jacksonville, and the oath was administered by Chief Justice Heard. The diplomas were distributed by Clerk Charles W. Vail.

Probably the first thing a new Ford owner will investigate is the possibility of 65 miles an hour.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

FROM FILES OF THE COOK COUNTY HERALD, JAN. 10, 1903

Misses Kate Mueller of Milwaukee and Alene Torgler of Palatine visited friends here Sunday.

Miss Clara Bollenbach came home Sunday from a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. E. Dahms.

Mr. and Mrs. John French left here Thursday for Chicago and expect to start Monday for San Francisco, Calif., which is to be their home the next five years.

Bray and Kates say they can furnish steady employment, at good wages, to all the men and boys they can get. Surely there is no occasion for anybody to be idle here.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kreft have been feasting the past week on a fat goose, a New Year's present from their son, F. W. Kreft, who is a prosperous farmer near Sac City, Iowa.

Dr. J. E. Best has so far recovered from the effects of his recent fall that he is convalescent and is now able to receive patients at his office. He expects to be able early next week to resume his regular practice.

Mr. J. J. Dietrich, who has faithfully served the C. & N. W. Ry. Co. as agent at Arlington Heights the past fourteen years, felt the need of a rest and got leave of absence for a month or six weeks vacation. Himself and wife left Wednesday morning to visit friends at Delevan, Madison and Milwaukee, Wis. We hope for their safe return, as they are popular people highly esteemed by all who know them.

Arlington Heights Village Board at their regular meeting Jan. 5, granted a 50-year franchise to the Northern Illinois Traction Co., who hope to have an electric railroad completed from Chicago to Arlington Heights or beyond this year. Our citizens should prepare for the boom that is sure to strike the town when this line is in operation. Somebody who has money to invest, should build more houses to rent and accommodate those who would like to establish their homes here and seek employment in our factories.

Richard Noack fell Sunday and dislocated his right arm at the elbow. As he couldn't attend school, he accompanied Mrs. Harnisch to St. Louis for a week's visit.

H. W. Boeger has only received three cars of hard coal since the strike and two of these came Monday. It sold quick at $10.50 a ton. It seems the higher the price the more anxious people are to get it. The operators and railroads have combined to bleed the people by holding back the coal till emergency drives consumers to buy at any price, rather than let their families suffer from cold. The Lord will reckon with those avaricious barons some day, then they will be willing to part with their ill-gotten wealth for water to cool their parching tongues.

E. F. Winkelman, who recently bought the Madison house corner, has begun improving same with a new 1x26x16 ice house. This going to put it.

99x132 foot lot is about the most valuable ground in town and we hope soon to see a three story and basement brick block take the place of the old building, which M. Blum reserves and must move off within six months. Winkelman is an enterprising business man, and will no doubt build the best block in town.

At its last meeting the municipal board of the village of Wauconda passed an ordinance granting a fifty years franchise to W. D. Ball, W. T. Block, C. H. Lenhart and others of Chicago to build and operate an electric railroad within its corporate limits. The ordinance is drawn in the usual terms, and provides for the leasing to the railroad company of the villages public grounds a depot site, in consideration of which the railroad company is to light Wauconda's main street with electricity.

Orchard Place

Christ Zachler and wife celebrated their golden wedding Dec. 26 and 27.

Wm. Goede and Mr. Knaack hauled 66,000 lbs. of manure at eleven (11) wagon loads, one of the last loads weighed 8,400 lbs. wagon and all. Beat that, if you can, somebody.

St. John's Church Dedication

Sunday, Jan. 11, 1903 will be a red letter day for the St. John's congregation. Their new church is to be dedicated with impressive ceremony. The German Evangelical churches of Des Plaines, Long Grove, Lake Zurich, Palatine, Plum Grove and Barrington will unite to make this a memorable occasion. There will be services at 10:30 a. m., 2 o'clock and 7:30 p. m. Rev. H. Wagner, the prospective pastor from Iowa, will preach Sunday morning and several other ministers will assist. Several good choirs will help with singing. Don't fail to bring your pocket books, as a collection will be taken after each service. Free lunch will be served in the basement for those who come from a distance.

Wheeling

B. F. Stryker is serving as jurymen in the circuit court this week. The creamery on the south side of the street closed up New Years. Mr. Dowd considered it impossible to carry on a successful business at this place since so many of the patrons prefer sending their milk to Chicago.

Des Plaines

There is much told here about the horse shoers union. Several of our farmers say they will club together, build a shop and hire a blacksmith to do their work. The ground has already been bought.

It is all right for Mr. Ford to build a new car but looking carefully up and down the street one wonders where in the world he is going to put it.

Much trouble is being experienced by swine owners through the rather widespread prevalence of necrotic enteritis in hogs, condition sometimes referred to as necrobacillosis. The ailment is characterized by inflammation of the intestines, causing diarrhea, later an impairment in appetite, unthriftiness, weakness and emaciation. While it may be produced by a specific organism a similar condition may be induced through the feeding of irritating material, such as caustic agents in stock food or medicine and in garbage, and the taking in of foreign matter when feeding on wet, dirty ground. Necrotic enteritis originates in practically all cases from filthy conditions under which hogs are kept, and so the disease is one that can easily be guarded against through the adoption of sanitary measures in management. Feeding platforms that can be thoroughly cleaned should be used.

A WORD A WEEK

By Reverend
Leonard Trap

SELFISH

The ship had been wrecked in a storm and the men were trying to keep the hulk afloat by main strength at the pumps. To stimulate their sagging energies they began to ask one another what each was pumping for.

"I am pumping that my old mother may not lose her only son," said one.

Said another, "I am pumping that my children may not be left fatherless."

A third said, "I am pumping that my wife may not be left a widow."

Inspired by these thoughts the men pumped on.

Jones pumped in silence. Finally the question came round to him.

"What are you pumping for, Jones?"

"I'm pumping for Jones," he muttered.

Pumping is wearisome work at best, but especially so when it is done for Jones alone. You never saw a selfish person who was really happy. Most people are "tired of life" are not really tired of life at all, but tired of living solely for themselves. They deserve the pain they feel.

Jones pumping for Jones. There was the man who had two calves and promised that one should be the Lord's. All went well for a time and his gift promised to be a round one of the calves dead.

At first he was greatly distressed, but soon he announced to his wife, "Sarah, the Lord's calf is dead."

Someone has described a selfish person as "a lover of himself without a rival." The selfish person wants everything "all by my-own-self," as a character in an Uncle Remus story puts it.

The proverb says that he is the greatest slave who serveth only himself.

Think of Jones occasionally. What are you pumping for?

Make Plans for Chicago Garden And Flower Show

The suburban garden clubs which last year played a prominent part in the success of the famous Chicago Garden and Flower Show are making an even more active interest in the 1928 show according to an announcement from the Flower Show committee, issued today.

Where last year the competition was confined to shadow boxes and table arrangements, this year each club will enter a prize contest for garden and home design. Each club will be given an identical model and grounds. The house will be decorated, the gardens will be planted out in detail to demonstrate various artistic effects which can be achieved in small and idyllic areas.

The 1928 show will be held in the exhibition halls of Hotel Sherman and a total of 75,000 square feet of space will be devoted to the displays. The dates will be March 24 to April 1.

"The life size gardens which will be a dominating attraction of the show, will illustrate the modern fashion of improving the small home grounds," said John A. Servas, manager of the show. "A great change has come about since the day when the home garden consisted of a round bed of red carnations in the front yard and a vegetable plot in the back yard. The improvement in garden architecture has been quite as great as the progress in small home architecture. A distinctive American style of home garden has been developed.

But this fashion is still unfamiliar to home owners in general.

"Perhaps not one home owner in ten has really developed his garden according to the modern fashion and yet everyone nowadays desires to do this. Interest in gardening is widespread and the amateur gardener is always seeking correct information regarding garden design."

"The Flower Show management feels that object lessons in correct garden design which illustrates the wide possibility for beautifying the grounds of every home will be of immense interest and value to those who visit the 1928 show. Life size gardens designed by competent landscape architects will be built in the Exhibition Hall. Growing plants and flowers with real soil and artistic accessories will give these gardens a definite educational value for the amateur gardener. The spaces will be 20 by 20, or 20 by 40 feet and a different method of improving the small home garden area will be demonstrated in each.

Exhibits of garden photographs and a continuous series of lectures on all phases of gardening will be additional features of the 1928 show. Mr. Servas says, "The show will be held just prior to the planting season and the management believes that the educational value of this show will do much to foster the distinctive American development in home gardens."

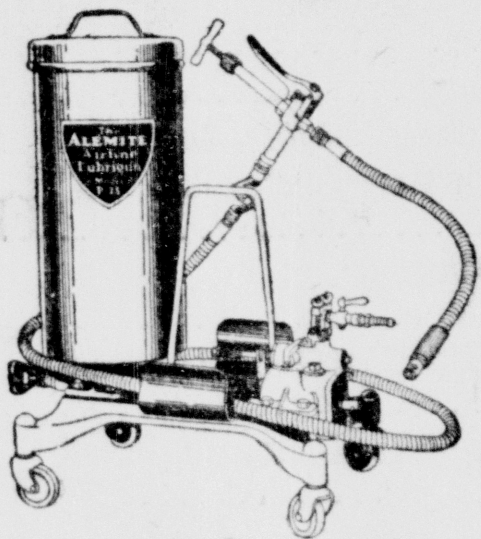

The meeting of the garden clubs representatives will be held in January at which time details of the garden clubs competition will be settled. The committee is planning many attractive awards for the winning suburban clubs.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,

He never to the crowd has said;

When coming home these moonlight nights,

"I'm proud to live in Arlington Heights."

If such there breathe, go run him down,

And sell him lots in this fair town.

If you believe Arlington Heights is a good place to live, tell about it. Tell why you believe in the town, tell about its beautiful homes, its churches and its schools, tell about its noble trees, its broad, paved streets, and its pure sparkling water, the very best in any town in the state.

During the time the Gray Realty Co. were exhibiting Honeycomb Cottages from April to August, over 60,000 strangers visited Arlington, came to see and to take a chance of winning that faultless specimen of our home architecture construction, as well as artistic skill. Not all could win the cottage, yet many came, who will eventually buy homes in this town.

Hear many old residents of Arlington Heights say: "I don't know one-half the people I meet or see passing on the streets." No more do I, yet in a city that boasts of good neighborliness, we should, at least, know those within a block or two of our homes. Never mind whether they belong to your church, political party or card club, just extend to them a bit of neighborly kindness, and be human.

There are those who are a little reticent about giving items about their movements and social activities to the reporter, this I know is especially so of those who are bred up to city ways, where crime and personal scandal fill the columns of the only papers they are familiar with. In a smaller city the citizens, in a way, are parts of one family, and joy or sorrow that comes to one household touches us all.

"We share each others woes, Our mutual burdens bear; And often for each other flows, The sympathizing tear."

This is just why, when we hear that some sorrow or misfortune has come to one of our "new neighbors" way out on Foundry Road, or north on Dunton avenue, or south Elk Grove way, we are all concerned and feel the touch that makes us all "Good Neighbors." Come, let us hunt up these "strangers" within our gates and tell them just how we feel about it and why we are interested in them is because they belong to us.

And as to those city papers that try to get off smart quips about the "Cedeville Gazette," or the "Bellville Bugle" and their personal and intimate items about citizens, prominent or otherwise. These country papers are simply tell-over things of interest of their large families, while the city newspapers spread out tales of crime and evil doers, which to read is to shake ones faith in humanity. Come to Arlington Heights and hear about the good neighbors.

Speaking of local affairs. Do you know what became of that old restaurant building just east of Mr. Flentie's blacksmith shop? Last time it was seen it was moving west on Campbell street. Do you remember way back when it was built for the Charles Schiffman's family restaurant? O, yes, and our mayor, a generous lad was one of the best customers for Mrs. Schiffman's five cent pies. Not for himself alone, but as treats for his group of boy friends. Wonder what has become of that old restaurant? Is this question to go ringing down the ages unanswered with that moss grown query. "Who struck Billy Patterson?"

All manner of disparaging remarks are made in regard to club women, and women in politics and in office, not by thinking individuals are by those who have informed themselves questions of the hour. Such persons recognize the fact that woman, since they have come into their own as citizens, are proving their ability to stand side by side with their brothers in bearing the burden, and sharing the privileges of citizenship. One hopeful sign of the times is that our high school are interesting themselves in the coming campaign and trying to inform themselves as to the merits of the several candidates for the presidency.

Just wonder how many boys and girls now men and women, would recognize the sound of Mr. W. W. Guild's old sleighbells, if they heard them as the old sled used to swing round the school house corner. Few in this old town, who didn't have a ride in that old sleigh. All the school children over and over; church parties; the Woman's Club, and all the "neighbors" shared in the ride in that old sled. Wonder why some of our garage men don't get that bob, for Mr. Guild says he still has it, and put a fine team on it, or it need be a motor, only be sure and have the bells, wouldn't that create a sensation?

So a Chicago man has a robin in his back yard. That's hopeful. One would think when you read of the "wild larks," birds of prey in that great city a dear friendly robin would not dare seek shelter within its bounds. Robins are such neighborly good pals. One winter in the 90's we had a robin with us all winter long. He took shelter under the porch at night, and flew about among the trees in day time. But that was in the days of good comrades, before we aspired to be a city, before we had a slogan or knew we were "Good Neighbors." "Them days are gone forever."

Have you read that warning to hunters, regarding a peculiar disease among rabbits sent out by Chicago's Health Doctor Evans? A disease endangering those who handle or skin the rabbit as well as those who eat them. That the safe way seems to be not to handle the rabbits at all. The Tribune has published the warning more than once. And I just wonder if our local hunters are giving heed to it.

Some one thinking of the splendid work our Park Board are doing and the fine appearance of the Railroad Parks today, just reminds us of some parks of "Yester year."

The Park north of the station, with the old mound, on which was erected an eagle cage with a real live eagle in it. Then there was Atkins Park at Spring Lawn, where the Fessler's now carry on their fine dairy. An artesian well, 1,100 feet deep sent the fine sparkling slightly brackish water all over the 57 acres of land, laid out in long walks pretty like lols and trellised nooks in artificial lakes, gold fish, silver sides and other rare fish sported in the sun. Deer, a huge buffalo, peacocks and other rare birds were seen, it was the wonder of the town, a real place of beauty.

Here's something I want to tell you about. A course of free lectures to be given to high school pupils in Fullerton Hall, Art Institute, by Dudley Craft Watson. "Every one can learn to draw, and art and good citizenship" Mondays at 4 p. m. and to grade pupils Saturdays at 2:45 p. m. during the season. This is a grand opportunity for things worth while and I trust our schools can avail themselves of it. Now for silence until our next.

O, the majesty of silence, Far greater than human speech; In the depths of its soothing quiet, Beyond our power to reach.

Silence, brooding at midnight, Over far pine forests deep; Silence enfolding nature, As a mother soothes to sleep.

Silence that falls between us, When two sit dreaming alone; United in thought and purpose, As silence can only make known.

Silence that rests profoundly, After a masterful speech; Silence that rests as an anthem, Its wordless music to teach.

Silence the heavens unfolding, As great constellations sweep; On world old nightly courses, The creators plan to keep.

Silence surpassing in beauty, Our meager hum and speech; Bearing life's greatest message, When soul unto soul would reach.

Silence, that awesome silence, That holds our beloved dead; When they pass beyond our vision, Where God light eternal doth spread.

Silence like benediction, Holds in its grasp the throng; Swept in its folds mysterious, By the echoes of a song.

Silence, mystic silence, Brooding beside the gate; That holds from us, all who enter, Where to meet us loved ones wait. Elinore Crisler Haynes

State Poultry Show

Set for January 20-29

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 9.—The thirty-fifth annual exhibition of the Illinois State Poultry Show will be held at the state armory January 20-29, in connection with the annual exhibition of the Sangamon County Poultry Show. Already it is indicated the gathering will be one of the largest of its kind ever held, with approximately 2,500 birds entered in the various classes.

Leading among the prizes which are offered is a silver cup donated by Governor Len Small. In addition a silver cup has been hung up by S. J. Stanard director, Department of Agriculture, and a trophy by Representative A. O. Arnold of Quincy. Sixty per cent of the entry fees will be returned as cash awards.

Woman's Club Notes

The Woman's Club met last week Wednesday, January 4th. The program for the day was exchanged for Mrs. Rudolph Williams program for February 1—Illinois laws of interest to women, which Mrs. Williams gave in interesting detail. Following are some of the more important laws, and interesting suggestions and ideas were gleaned from these. From the legislative program of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs, was read especially, laws and facts concerning the property rights of the women of Illinois. Illinois laws, make no distinction of sex as to property rights.

A married woman has a right to her own property. Surplus property may be invested in the names of husband and wife as joint owners.

The wife has inchoate right of dower in husband's real estate.

A wife may own and convey the same as a husband may.

Mrs. Williams had gone to much pains and effort to select these most important laws for women out of masses of minor laws. She advised those desiring to inform themselves further to send for the legislative program of 1926-1927 to No. 127, North Dearborn Street, Chicago, for more interesting facts of this subject.

The Woman's Club once received a neat compilation of our state laws concerning women, which were most informing and many members still have this book.

The members of the club very much appreciated Mrs. Williams helpful program.

Next meeting of the club January 18th. A musical program in charge of the music committee.

Beet and Cane Chemical Twins Of the Sugars

Latest food fallacy to be thrown on the junk heap of erroneous information is the idea that there is a difference between beet sugar and cane sugar for cooking, baking, and other household purposes.

Home economists discovered there was no difference between the two in the results they obtained long ago but many housewives still cling to the notion. Some believe they can distinguish beet sugar from cane by the size of the crystals. Others claim that beet sugar is not as sweet as cane and that they cannot use beet sugar in preserving, jelly-making and canning.

Scientists employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture conducted exhaustive tests of cane and beet sugar to determine if the housewives were correct. But they found that refined beet sugar and cane sugar were chemically identical. Although derived from different species of plants, the refined product from the juice of cane and beet was found to be exactly the same in composition, sweetening power, dietetic effect, and chemical reaction.

European housewives have depended almost exclusively on beet sugar for fifty years. Of 1,900,000 tons of sugar consumed annually in Great Britain, 1,300,000 is beet and England has a world-wide reputation for its fine jellies, jams and preserves.

formation is the idea that there is a difference between beet sugar and cane sugar for cooking, baking, and other household purposes.

Home economists discovered there was no difference between the two in the results they obtained long ago but many housewives still cling to the notion. Some believe they can distinguish beet sugar from cane by the size of the crystals. Others claim that beet sugar is not as sweet as cane and that they cannot use beet sugar in preserving, jelly-making and canning.

Scientists employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture conducted exhaustive tests of cane and beet sugar to determine if the housewives were correct. But they found that refined beet sugar and cane sugar were chemically identical. Although derived from different species of plants, the refined product from the juice of cane and beet was found to be exactly the same in composition, sweetening power, dietetic effect, and chemical reaction.

Absent, 20½; tardy, 5.
Our Christmas program was enjoyed by everyone. We had a very big crowd and many had to stand. Santa was here.
We had no school Tuesday because Miss Meyer was unable to get here.
Everybody is glad it snowed so they are able to use skis and sleds. Wilmer Gusewelle and Esther Roper are ahead in getting the first twenty-five hundreds.
Many of the children have had colds.
We are all glad to get back to work at school. Vacation was enjoyed by all. By the looks of all the new pencils, pens, jackets and jewelry, Santa was very good to all of us.
Among the sick list are Evelyn Luerssen, Esther Roper, Patty Tyler and Helen Harmering.
The primaries made some very good pictures of "The Pied Piper of Hamelin."

Barrington, Dist. 10
There are only three pupils left in school with perfect attendance for the year. They are Adeline Bruns, Harold Bruns, Lucille Bruns.
Our attendance Tuesday was the poorest of the year. There were only twelve out of twenty-seven.
The following pupils will receive spelling prizes this week: Marie Goldenstein, Harold Bruns, Hilda Thurnau, Leona Saathoff, Olga Hendrickson and Sylvia Saxon. This is the second time Leona and Olga have won prizes.
George Hendrickson is sick in the hospital. He has been in the hospital for two weeks. He wrote a letter to his chum "Elmer Reuter" Friday. Elmer is answering his letter and many others are writing to George.
We are having lots and lots of fun in the snow. Many children brought their sleds. Altogether we counted six or seven sleds. The younger children made a snowman which they enjoyed very much. The older ones enjoyed coasting and taking a "Belly whop" down the hill. Some places the snow was getting thin so the boys shoveled more snow on.
The higher grades are making January calendars which are very pretty.
We are learning to sing some new songs. We sing in the morning and at noon.
Many were absent this week on account of cold weather and high snow. They are as follows: Harold Holtzee, Emil Reuter, Mable Reuter, Walter Reuter and Laura Reuter, Harold Smith, Dorothy Smith, Elsie Smith.
We had our Christmas program Thursday, December 22 which all our mothers attended.
There were many snowbanks Tuesday when we returned to school, but now they are almost gone and all the roads are open.
Malinda Thurnau and Hilda Thurnau visited their aunt during school board passed bags of candy nuts and oranges to the pupils.

Miss Jacobs left for Toledo, Ohio, to visit her father.
When we returned Jan. 3, we were glad to find our school yard covered with high snow drifts. The boys built an igloo for their art study. This was valuable, for it was community work done with a spirit of cooperation. The 3rd grade studied about the shelter home and food of the Eskimo.
We studied the Blue Boy for our picture study. We pasted the miniature reproductions on book marks.
The 3rd grade is having subtraction through hundreds and thousands. We take important dates as 1492, 1917 and so connect historical events with arithmetic.
The upper grades are preparing for the spelling contest. We have a spell down every Friday p. m. The Guenther children were absent Tuesday. They attended the funeral of their uncle. Some relatives from Wisconsin visited their home Thursday.
Friends from Chicago visited the Reed family Thursday.

Deer Grove School
Attendance for week Jan. 3: Enrollment, 17; absences, 27; tardiness, 3; department, 2.
Report cards were given out Tuesday. Clara, Carter, and Martha O'Connell had perfect attendance during Dec.
We began having hot lunches Jan. 3. Everyone is to pay five cents a week for hot lunch.
The 4th grade geography class is studying clothing, one of the important needs of people.
Seventh and Eighth Grades have started studying the physical geography of the United States.
The pencil sharpener, for which we sold pencils, arrived Wednesday.
James Prow, who was absent several weeks, returned Friday.
In the drawing period Friday, we painted scenes in black and white. These we mounted on black construction paper.

We did not have our school in the paper for a few weeks because of our Christmas vacation.

Santa Claus visited us and brought each of us a stocking with candy and nuts in and three pencils with our names on. The district gave Miss Ruger a green fountain pen and pencil with her name in gold on it. The pupils exchanged presents and Miss Ruger received a great many presents.
We have a new thermometer at school, and we have some very pretty new calendars in school.
Santa Claus was very generous this year.
Miss Ruger brought some pictures to school, some pictures of Pikes Peak and some pictures of Washington, D. C., and other places which she got when she was down in Virginia and the other states around there.
We had a real pretty Christmas tree and we bought decorations out of the Achievement Club money.
We will have examinations Monday.
We did not have a very large attendance this week.
We have our Achievement stories all written up and down.

Leyden School, Dist. 80
The pupils of Wolf School, Dist. 80, Irving Park boulevard, gave a very enjoyable Christmas program Friday, Dec. 23. A large, beautiful tree was donated and decorated by the Parent Teachers Association. They also provided a variety of candy. Program was as follows:

Mt. Prospect School
Leland Helwig, Editor
Mary Edith Parke, Asst. Editor
The children are very glad to return to school after their Christmas vacation, which they enjoyed very much. We are enjoying the first big snow, and hope all others are doing the same.
We had a nice Christmas program, after which Santa Claus came and distributed the gifts to the school children. Then came the candy and nuts, which the directors bought, were passed to all the people.

Our teachers, Miss Grace E. Gutzier, and Mrs. I. Butler, gave the school children some nice books, which the children are enjoying.
Some of the children were sick and couldn't come to the entertainment and take part. We are very sorry for them.
Northbrook School
A Xmas party was given to the pupils of the Northbrook public school on Dec. 23, 1927, by the Parent-Teacher Association. The stage was very prettily decorated and the program given by the grades was as follows:
Swedish dance—Primary room.
The Night Before Christmas—Second Grade.
Songs and Playlet—3rd, and 4th grades.

Miss Wilson returned as our music teacher for the new term.

Parent Enthusogram
Plodder or genius every child should have as his birthright a fine inspiration made courageous by the spur of parental interest and thoughtful co-Operation.

Health and Aviation
In some fields of endeavor, as music, art, literature, and mechanical invention, genius may rise to greatness in spite of a weak or crippled body. Genius alone, however, cannot prevail in the new and rapidly growing field of aviation. Soundness of body and alertness of mind are essential to the man who would drive an airplane.
Neither luck nor foolhardiness was responsible for Lindbergh's spectacular achievement. In his book "We", Lindbergh states briefly his reasons for selecting the type of plane used in his trans-Atlantic flight. But the plane he selected was equally well built and perfected. Other pilots have taken off under apparently better weather conditions. When Lindbergh set forth on that momentous day, he had given full consideration to weather forecasts and conditions; had charted every mile of the ocean route; had studied every minutest detail of the undertaking; had counted and discounted every risk; had even tested his ability to remain awake for thirty-five hours. He was master of his environment, of his machine, and of himself—a perfect example of an alert mind functioning in a healthy body.
Starting with the advantage of coming from good "stock" and being reared in a healthy, sane, and inspiring environment, Lindbergh has lived a clean wholesome life. He has developed good habits, has taken plenty of exercise, has lived much out of doors, has been interested in play, in sports and in work. When he tested his body and his mind in the most exacting manner, they were not found wanting.
Lindbergh is an outstanding example of the successful airplane pilot. The majority of army and navy fliers are nearly perfectly healthy individuals. Practically all of them are men of the Lindbergh type—tall and well built, but not fat. To maintain a proper supply of blood to all parts of the body, the heart which the flyer cannot risk.

Hoosier Grove School, Dist. 43½
We received our report cards Tuesday.
Lucile Volkening has not been absent or tardy as yet. Alvin Hecht has not been absent.
We are having a contest in spelling. A prize is to be given to the one who gets 25 hundreds first.
On Friday all the grades had a test in arithmetic.
Doris and Clifford Abramson have recovered from the Whooping Cough. We hope they will be back to school soon.
Edward, Frank and Mary Tomasheski must have been snowed in this week. They were absent all week.
Last week we learned to cut a five-pointed star with one snip of the scissors, just as Betsy Ross did when she made our flag.
Leo Berndt is very much interested in a book on Lindbergh which his cousin gave him for Christmas.
Lucile Volkening and Melvin Berndt kept a diary for last week. They read it to us on Friday.

Rapidly Growing Jackie Coogan a Real Boy
The world's most famous boy, rapidly growing up, is still a hundred percent boy. Jackie Coogan, with his hair cut, and on the threshold of high school, plays older roles—has forsaken the child roles that first won him fame—but he's having a good deal more fun.
Jackie, whose newest "near grown up" role discloses him as a belboy on an Atlantic liner in "Buttons," his Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature coming Saturday, Jan. 14, to the Catlow Theatre at Barrington, is going to military school now—and had to make the picture during summer vacation, so it's come to a point where he can't stay out of school too long. He wants to be

Achievement Stories

GARDEN
Paul Rossmann, Dist. 71
I chose garden for my project. My garden is 247 feet long and 25 feet wide. I sowed beets in my garden. I kept it nice and clean and the beets grew rapidly. They were very big heads. The tops were about 1 foot long and looked very appetizing. In July they were ready for the market. My father said he'd take them with, because I helped him do his work in the field. The first load he took down was 200 bunches. The second load he took down, he took with 200 bunches. The third load he took down was 400 bunches. The fourth load he took down he took with 100 bunches. They sold for a good price. There were 900 bunches of beets in all. They sold for 2c a bunch. I received $18.00 for my beets. I gave the money to my father, to buy me clothes, which I needed.

MY GARDEN
Ella Lemke, 5th Grade
Grove School, Dist. 27
May 3, Mr. Aken came and brought our signs and books. Mr. Wiegand gave us the signs and books.
I belong to the Achievement Club. This is my first year of project work. I go to the Grove school. I am in the 5th grade and my age is 12. My name is Ella Lemke. My project work is garden and I raised carrots, corn, beans, peas, red beets, potatoes, onions and tomatoes. I had to work very hard to keep my garden clean. I first had to help my father during the day time out in the field and then I went out and worked in my garden until dark, and sometimes I go and work on Sundays. Then after my crop was big enough to sell, I made $35.75 altogether. After I had the money, I saved it and when I get more, I am going to put it in the bank and buy myself clothes with it. Next year I may take something else for my project work.

MY MUSIC PROJECT
Eleanor Maier, 7th Grade
East Prairie School
I have been taking music lessons for nearly four years. I already have had three teachers. I expect to play the piano in theaters and at concerts. If I earn enough money, I will study music in Europe. I will study with my aunt until I graduate from high school and then I will take a teachers course at the North Park College of Music.

GARDEN PROJECT
Ellen Donlea
Barrington, Dist. 5
I took garden for my project this year. My mother gave me some of her garden space.
My mother and I measured my garden. It was fifteen feet long and nine feet wide.
My father plowed my garden for

I started to caddy July 30, and worked every day including Sundays the rest of the summer. I liked to caddy. It was a good chance for me to earn money. I earned $59.40. I gave it to my mother.

MY SEWING PROJECT
Ellen Turngren
Phoenix School, Dist. 151
Last year I earned an achievement credit in sewing by completing the work prescribed by my teacher, and by submitting a red book record of it.
This year I am again enrolled in the School-Home Sewing Class under the guidance of Miss Hanchman. I believe that I shall be able to obtain another achievement credit this year. So far we have made curtains for our room. We are beginning to make individual articles for ourselves.
We also get marks in geography, arithmetic and language for our project work. Though we are convinced that our projects are well worth their time on their own account.

Gaare Garage Shows New Edition Of Studebaker Autos

The new American Edition of the Erskine Six—club sedan listing at $795 f. o. b. factory—will be introduced to the United States this week, according to an announcement by officials of The Studebaker Corporation of America.

The appearance of the new club sedan, with a larger, roomier body and a new and more powerful motor, follows completion of the work of introducing the Erskine into the export markets of the world, where during the past twelve months it has met with unqualified success.

H. C. Gaare, the local Studebaker dealer, states that the new Erskine was designed primarily for the American market. It meets American demands for ample, roomy comfort. I also offers the brilliant performance motorists have come to associate with Studebaker products as a result of Studebaker's triumph in winning every official speed and endurance record for fully equipped stock cars regardless of power or price.

In speaking of the performance of the new Erskine, Studebaker officials point to the sensational achievement of a stock Erskine sedan which completed a 24-hour speed and endurance run on the Atlantic City Speedway under supervision of the American Automobile Association at the average speed of 54.1 miles an hour. The Erskine Six now holds a mark never equaled by any stock car selling for less than $1,000.

Tests on Studebaker's million dollar Proving Ground have pointed the way for improved gasoline economy and smoother operation at all speeds, as well as improved chassis design which includes a more rigid frame and new multiple leaf springs that materially improve riding comfort and roadability. The chassis of the new American Edition of the Erskine has rear motor supports mounted in rubber to eliminate any possibility of vibration reaching frame and body.

Rigid Protection Begun in War On Bovine Plague

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 9.—Determined to hold the gains which have been made in its fight to free the state of Illinois from the menace of bovine tuberculosis, the Department of Agriculture has thrown additional safeguards around the counties which have gained accreditation as free from this disease.

Quarantine officers working under the Division of Animal Industry, who have been operating in areas ranging from three to seven counties, will have less territory to cover. Under the new plan an inspector will serve but one county and will devote all of his time to efforts to protect that area.

Assignments Made
Instructions issued to the officers assigned to special service in these counties stress importance of maintaining quarantine regulations, particularly against the importation of untested cattle, that if diseased, would endanger herds which are now free from tuberculosis. They are instructed to co-operate with county farm advisers, auctioneers, livestock dealers and dairymen, and to inform all interested relative to the requirements of the law and the necessity of rigid enforcement for their protection.

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT FOR AGRICULTURE

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 9.—Farmers of Illinois will view with hopefulness the prediction of Director S. J. Stansard, Department of Agriculture, that a new era of rural prosperity is dawning in the state and will move steadily forward as the year advances.

This optimistic forecast is based on statewide observations showing a greater diversity in staple crops and an increase in the acreage devoted to farm commodities that have been of lesser importance in the past.

Profit By Experiences
This change will come as a result of the experiences of the past year, which have been rather unfavorable, due to the long continued rainy season in the spring. Corn planting was delayed as a result and the acreage curtailed, resulting in a reduction in yield to below the ten year average.

Due to weather conditions there resulted an increase in the soy bean acreage, and from the experience it is predicted the soy bean acreage in the state will increase during 1928.

Oats have also declined in relative importance in the farm program and in their stead many fields have produced barley successfully. Feed and forage crops, particularly hay, fared well in 1927, and because of this live stock production has shown gains that are expected to continue throughout the new year.

Fruit growers, whose crop was generally reduced in 1927, are looking forward to a better season in 1928.

Dairy interests are hopeful, as breeding of herds shows general improvement and the yield per cow is on the upward trend. Feeding conditions, too, are favorable, the reports received indicate.

Poultry Outlook Good
Greater profits for the poultrymen are expected, as the industry is passing through a process of elimination by which unprofitable hens are being slaughtered and the high standard hens meeting the state standard accreditation now number approximately one million. Better hens, fanciers say, mean greater profits.

In general a tendency to produce that for which there is a demand, with less attention to the production of the crops that must compete on a world market, is taken as an indication that the efforts of the farmers will be more adequately rewarded in 1928.

"Hudson-Essex" Best Ever Says Bradley

The new Hudson-Essex is on display in the sales rooms of the Mt. Prospect Motor Sales.

Advanced style in the outstanding change in the larger and roomier Essex Super-Six, which makes its bow for the first time Saturday at the local showrooms.

In line and color and in details of style and finish, Mr. Bradley, of the local Hudson-Essex organization, regards these as the finest Essex Super-Six models he has seen.

In these Essex models the Hudson organization has not stopped with fine appearance. With a keen eye on fundamentals of value the list price on a highly important model—the Essex four door sedan—is reduced $40, to $795. In addition to the four door Essex sedan the popular coach model is continued at $735; and a larger coupe with rumble seat will shortly be ready at a list price of $775.

Beginning at the front the new Essex has a higher and more slender radiator, the effect being heightened by vertical shutters. These are lacquered to match the lower body of each car.

Surmounting the radiator is a classic winged figure suggesting fleetness.

The motorist has been removed to the dash. New head lamps are of colonial design; and saddle side lamps, miniatures of the head lamps, are mounted on nickel brackets at the cowl. Completing a distinctive front end appearance, the new Essex fenders sweep widely out over the wheels; front body pillars are extra narrow and a short, smart sun visor is fitted. Distinctive improvements are to be found throughout the car.

"The company has just completed the most successful year in its history," said Mr. Bradley today. "With 280,000 Hudson and Essex cars manufactured. This year's styles carry a step farther the principles of last year's cars with style and beauty added. We feel that these better Essex cars have again set a new mark of value in the automobile business."

Women of Hospitals Like Aids for Beauty

"Bobbed hair or a facial treatment may or may not be the means of curing insanity in women, but we know that most female patients in our state hospitals are not so mentally benighted as to shun any advantage that may improve their personal appearance or ignore the beauty aids so dear to a woman's heart."

"As one of the many aids to help in the recovery of these patients, the state hospitals in Illinois have fully equipped beauty parlors," says Dr. Alex S. Hershfield, state alienist working under the direction of the Department of Public Welfare.

"These beauty parlors contain the last word in all mechanical appliances used by cosmeticians in the world of the sane, and are in charge of skilled beauty specialists. Treatments are given to such patients as evince a desire for them, but many inmates are taught the work, many of whom have become skilled assistants."

"The Illinois state hospitals are leading in this great feature and while statistics are not available at this time to show just how much mental improvement may be attributed to this means, nevertheless there is a decided change for the better in the women patients who take treatments and who act as assistants."

"If it is only by appealing to the vanity of these patients, that aids in their improvement, the experiment is justified."

In Rhode Island, or in certain cities, gas meter readers have been ordered to report the existence of any stills that they may find in dwelling houses. Wouldn't it be easier to report places having no stills?

Crossing the legs, a Chicago physician warns women, puts a kink in the spine. So long as it doesn't put a kink in their legs, the women, we think, will manage to stave off alarm.

Guard Poultry Under New Law

Springfield, Ill., January 9.—Poultry dealers of Illinois are complying well with the law passed at the last session of the legislature requiring the licensing of all engaged in this line of business. The law was aimed primarily for the protection of poultry raisers and as a prevention against inroads of thieves, and in this it is reported as most successful.

Under the provisions of the law supervision of the poultry dealers rests with the Department of Agriculture and a registration fee of $1.00 is charged for each establishment and for each motor vehicle or other conveyance used in the purchase of or trading for live poultry.

It is also obligatory on the part of the poultry dealers to keep careful and accurate records showing the purchase of poultry from all persons. These records must show the date of the transaction, number of birds purchased, weight, breed, description and other distinguishing mark of the live birds purchased, together with the name, address and brief description of the seller, type of conveyance used, and in case this is an automobile the number of the license plates. This record is open to the inspection of all peace officers upon request. Fines of not less than $10, nor more than $100, are provided as a penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of the law. License of the dealer may also be revoked by the Department of Agriculture for violation of the law, after the dealer has been given an opportunity to be heard.

State Farm Guard Aiding
In a number of the agricultural counties of the state law enforcing organizations have been perfected, known as the State Farm Guard, with the object of giving protection to the rural communities. Special attention is being paid by these organizations to the prosecution of chicken thieves, with search of records of dealers in the event of thefts.

It is hoped in this manner, and through a strict compliance of the law on the part of dealers to break up organized gangs of chicken thieves and to reduce losses from theft to a minimum.

Registration of licensed dealers in the various counties of the state number from a score to more than one hundred, depending on the importance of poultry raising in the counties.

"King Ben" is still dead at this writing, but that is not to say we have heard the last of similar imposters. They rise frequently.

"Valley of the Giants" Comes to The Catlow Theatre This Week

Milton Sills, who has given some of the best characterizations in the history of the motion picture, has one of his greatest roles in "The Valley of the Giants," which comes to The Catlow Theatre, Barrington, Thursday and Friday, Jan. 12 and 13.

"The Valley of the Giants" is story set among the redwoods of California, with the colorful lumber industry as a background. In this environment Sills is perfectly at home and his interpretation of Kyn's hero leaves nothing to be desired.

Playing opposite Sills in this picture is Doris Kenyon, who returns to the screen after a year's absence. Miss Kenyon is ideally cast as the sweetheart of young Cardigan, and does her usual faultless performance.

"The Valley of the Giants" is superb entertainment, and adds another great role to the list of Milton Sills' successes on the screen.

The senior Mrs. Roosevelt is grandmother again. The case of the great anti-race sunder is marching on.

Libertyville Wins Twice; Coach Martins Team Buries Arlington H'ts

Displaying the greatest form reversal and improvement in team play shown in the Northwest Conference this season, Coach Martins' Libertyville basketball team buried the overconfident Arlington Heights team, under a huge drift of baskets at the Arlington gym Friday night and romped off the floor at the final gun shot easy winners by the top heavy score of 31 to 14.

The game was the big upset thus far in the Northwest Conference race. Arlington with victories over Bensenville and Antioch to their credit and a close game lost to Barrington, were poised to win over Libertyville, who had lost a close game to Leyden. But, as is so often the case, the dope bucket got upset and its contents spilled all over the place. Starting off like a bullet the Libertyville team simply overwhelmed the Arlington outfit from the very start.

Showing a wonderful improvement in team work and in basket shooting the Libertyville boys jumped into an early lead and at the quarter had the game won, leading by a 10 to 3 score. During the second quarter the Libertyville team kept up the terrific pace and Arlington gave one of the worst exhibitions of basket shooting ever seen in the conference. The home team were wild and erratic and couldn't locate the net, not even being able to hit the basket or the board on free throws to say nothing of sinking a counter.

Baker, the flashy little forward of Libertyville, was all over the floor and was as elusive as the proverbial flea, as the Arlington boys just couldn't seem to keep track of him and every time they lost him, he turned up under the basket and the score board would record another field goal for Libertyville.

The score at the half was Libertyville 21; Arlington 7, and it was near the close of the first half that Arlington was able to sink its first goal from the floor, their other 5 points having been gathered on free throws following fouls.

During the third quarter the slaughter of the innocents continued and Libertyville and the unstoppable Baker, boosted their total to 31, while Arlington, by dint of terrific effort, did manage to cage one sparrow and added 2 points to their modest total, the score at the three quarter post being Libertyville 31; Arlington, 9.

With the opening of the final quarter the slumbering Arlington came to life and showed a flash of the form, which has given them the right to be classed as a conference contender. Their guarding took on a sudden life and their play began to look like something.

During this quarter Libertyville, who had made frequent substitutions, lost two men by way of personals, and this loss coupled with the last ditch stand of Arlington field the whirlwind visitors scoreless in the final quarter, while Arlington added five points to its total and the final gun shot saw the score Libertyville 31; Arlington, 14.

The sudden and convincing form reversal of Libertyville was a surprise to the big crowd and the Arlington rooters like the Arlington team, were beaten after the first five minutes. In fact, it looked as if the victory of the Libertyville lightweight team over Arlington by a 25 to 18 count, had the whole Arlington outfit team and rooters, beaten before the big game, began.

The Arlington rooting section was not the Arlington of old and they folded up and quit when their team needed them most. To some of us, who have heard the wild, tumultuous Arlington rooting section of the past, the lack of pep at the Libertyville game was something strange and puzzling.

The good sized rooting section, which always follows the Libertyville team in victory or defeat, was wild with joy at the great showing of their team made. That Libertyville as "hot" for the game and that Arlington was "cold," in fact, badly "frozen," may be deduced from the following statistics. Libertyville had 31 shots at the basket and made 13 of them count.

Arlington had 42 shots and only sunk 4 of them.

Baker, the elusive phantom forward of Libertyville, had 13 chances at the hoop and sank nine of the 13. A wonderful record.

The showing of Libertyville stamped them as a team to be watched closely in this conference race, the showing of Arlington was way off, they simply had an awful off day, they have played better basketball and they can play better basketball and we expect to see them do it before the season ends, or is much older, in fact we expect to see a huge form reversal on the part of Arlington at the Palatine game Friday night.

Upsetting the Dope; What Libertyville Did

One of the things which makes all sports what they are is the uncertainty of the outcome of the various games and contests.

Old Man Dope is a great fellow but he gets some awful upsets every so often and these upsets that keep up interest in sports and make them so interesting to the public.

The point in mind is the week-end showing of the Libertyville basketball squad.

A few weeks ago Libertyville lost a close game to Leyden high school.

The team showed promise of becoming a fair team but they failed to give evidence of anything unusual. It looked as if there would be many teams in the conference just as good and some a whole lot better.

And then when all of the experts had Arlington doped to down the Libertyville team last Friday evening that outfit coached by Coach Martin pulled the surprise of the season and showed Arlington under. True Arlington was way off form but just the same Libertyville showed that they had made almost unbelievable progress and are right now one of the best teams in the conference.

And the following night after beating Arlington they came right back and played another whale of a game against Palatine winning 19 to 18.

Their two cracking games stamp them as one of the best teams in the conference. Its an extremely foolhardy stunt to predict a conference winner but right here we will be foolhardy and predict that the two teams to fight it out for top place will be Warren and Libertyville.

Now of course the dope may be badly upset again and then some more before the season is over, but right here we want to say that any team that beats Coach Martin's crew is going to have to play some basketball and that goes for the undefeated Barrington and Warren the same as the rest of the teams in the conference.

ILLINOIS PREP. A. A. NAMES 54 CAGE CENTERS

At a meeting Saturday in the offices of Secretary C. W. Whitten in the Roanoke building, the board of control of the Illinois State High School Athletic association selected 54 districts where the preliminary tournaments to decide the 1928 state basketball championship will be held. The district tournaments, which Mr. Whitten predicts, will attract more than 725 quintets, will be staged March 8, 9 and 10.

The district meets will attract virtually every school in the state. The weaker teams will be eliminated the first three days and the 54 successful quintets will be assigned places in the sectional tournaments, March 15, 16 and 17, at Benton, Bridgeport, East St. Louis, Jacksonville, Joliet, Normal, Peoria and Rock Island.

After these two events there will be eight survivors, which will be sent to Champaign for the final battle for the state title March 22, 23 and 24, in the University of Illinois gymnasium.

Sites for the district tournaments in the states are De Kalb, Dundee, Joliet, Kankakee, La Grange, and Waukegan.

Selection of 54 district centers breaks all previous records, and if the prediction that 725 teams will compete comes true another mark also will be set. Last year there were 48 district meets, which had an entry approximately of 700 quintets. In the last seven years the number of district tournaments has been more than doubled and the number of teams also has increased one hundred per cent.

Mount Carmel captured the 1927 title. Elgin, Bloomington, Freeport, Rockford, and Centralia each has won the championship twice, but Elgin is the only city to accomplish this feat in successive years.

OLD RIVALS TO MEET FRIDAY

Age old rivalry will be resumed once more when Arlington and Palatine clash Friday evening on the basketball floor at Arlington Heights. Traditional rivals since the beginning of time the two high schools will renew that rivalry Friday evening in the first game of the season between these two teams.

Arlington Heights is pointing for the Palatine game as it has been some time since any Arlington team has taken a basketball game from Palatine. Arlington thinks that their day has come and they are keying for this game.

One reason for Arlington's poor showing against Libertyville last week, was no doubt, due to the team not being pointed for that game and probably underrating Libertyville's strength the Coaches preferred to take a chance with Libertyville and point for their old rivals, Palatine.

But the pointing won't all be one sided, as evidenced by the remark of a Palatine player, when he was told that Arlington was pointing for the Palatine game. "We'll just remember that we are pointing right back at them," "don't forget that," said the Palatine star. So with both teams "keyed" for the game, it should be a great battle and where they are going to put all the fans that will want to see that game is a mystery to us.

DROP ARMY NAVY GAME

Dispute Over Athletic Rule Causes Break May Ask Coolidge to Intervene

There will be no Army-Navy football game in 1928 unless the matter is taken out of the hands of the authorities at West Point and Annapolis.

This was disclosed when Admiral L. M. Nulton, superintendent of the naval academy, and Maj. Gen. Edwin B. Winans, superintendent at West Point, held a short conference last week and last announced that the annual service classic will not be played in 1928.

Gen. Winans took advantage of his appearance in Washington before the house appropriations committee to invite Admiral Nulton to meet him for a conference. Admiral Nulton accepted the invitation and for a time it was thought that the breach between the two academies would be healed.

Conference Ends Abruptly

The conference had hardly begun, however, when it was made clear that the navy still stood flatly for either the three year eligibility rule or no football game. As Gen. Winans was just as determined not to adopt the three year rule and thus render ineligible all its former college stars, the conference ended within fifteen minutes after it had begun.

According to army officials, the admiral was asked if he intended to sign a contract with West Point of the three year eligibility rule was left out. The admiral, it was stated here today, replied in the negative, and that ended the discussions.

The conference was described as being of a most friendly character, but feeling in the army and navy is running high.

Navy officers feel that it is useless for the naval academy to continue athletic relations with West Point if the army team is to win all the games. Army officials feel that the navy backers have simply trumped up this "eligibility rule" as an excuse for their defeats.

Army Men Aroused

One army officer asserted to night that the naval academy cooked up the "eligibility row" simply because they have been beaten consistently during the last six years. He asserted that virtually the only opposition to allowing the former college man to play football comes from the naval academy.

Naval officers, on the other hand, point out that it is useless for an institution observing the three year rule to attempt to win half its games from one that permits former all-American stars to play on its teams.

20,000 Watch Ski Tourney At Palos Hill

Despite poor weather conditions, approximately 20,000 attended the annual ski tournament of the Forest Preserve Club at Palos Hill, 11th and Geary avenues Sunday afternoon. There was sufficient snow to cover the slide, but had spots caused more than the usual number of falls.

Anders Haugen, former national and Olympic champion, turned in the two longest jumps with distances of 126 feet for his first attempt and 130 on the second. Halvor Walsted of the Racine club got the next best distance in class A with one jump of 128 feet.

For class B, Paul Christensen of the Racine Ski Club recorded the longest jump, making 117 feet.

In order to keep the hill in better condition for the regular jumps no trials were held in either class.

Bensenville Defeats Wauconda in Game

The scrappy Wauconda high school team lost another heart breaking game to Bensenville Friday night by the close score of 20 to 19. Bensenville by beating Wauconda for the second time shows that they are fast getting into the class of the rest of the N. W. conference teams.

Warren Keeps A Clean Slate

The Warren High School of Gurnee kept its slate clean in the N. W. Conference by defeating their time honored rival Antioch by a 25 to 19 score Friday evening in an interesting game at Gurnee.

Keep Up Terrific Pace; Nose Out Palatine

Keeping up and even increasing the terrific pace which carried them to victory over Arlington on Friday night the whirlwind Libertyville team nosed out the basket shooters of the Palatine high school Saturday night at Libertyville by the hair raising score of 19 to 18.

It was one of the hardest fought games ever played in the Northwest conference and the result was uncertain right up to the crack of the final gun.

Palatine started off like the Palatine team of a year ago and with a little more accuracy in basket shooting would have piled up an early lead, but many shots were missed and the game was scoreless for some minutes.

Palatine scored the first basket and led for a few moments, but two free throws tied it up, and then Libertyville jumped into the lead and at the quarter the score was Libertyville, 5 Palatine 2.

The second quarter saw the game becoming harder and faster with every minute of play and the big crowd became a bedlam of raving applause as first one team and then another gained a point or two.

Palatine overcame the Libertyville lead and for a moment nosed out in front only to have the frantic and desperate playing home team come up on even terms and poke their nose in front at the half with the score of Libertyville 10, Palatine 9.

During the second quarter Grandy, ace of the Palatine team came out of a scrimmage with an inch and a half long cut over his left eye. Right here Libertyville showed the good sportsmanship for which they are noted and instead of insisting upon play being resumed at the end of the legal time out limit they gave Palatine all the time out necessary to patch up Grandy's wound and cheered the Palatine star as he came out to resume the game with the cut taped up. That is sportsmanship.

With the opening of the third quarter it looked for a few moments as if the Palatine team were going to pieces and as if the Libertyville outfit were going to romp through them during the second half.

But after dropping behind, Palatine rallied and by a beautiful burst of speed and some of their old time team play they came up to the three quarter mark with the score Libertyville 14, Palatine 12.

The fourth quarter saw a hard and fast game getting harder and faster every second. Each team was imbued with the spirit of victory and each team was determined to win.

So fast and hard was the game and so hurried were the plays, both teams missed frequent close shots and the huge crowd moaned or roared as the tide of battle waved back and forth across the floor with first one team and then the other scoring a point or two.

Palatine, fighting desperately to tie the score forced the playing in the last wild minutes of a wild battle and caged a couple of baskets which didn't count because the man who worked the ball down had stepped out of bounds.

Wauconda Town Team Defeats Crystal Lake

The fast town team squad from Wauconda won a double victory over the Crystal Lake squad at Wauconda Friday night.

The second string cagers took Crystal Lake into camp by a 37 to 14 score while the Wauconda first team downed the Crystal Lake stars by a count of 27 to 16.

Wauconda has always been noted as a great basketball town and has turned out some great stars among the most prominent of whom are the Stroker twins who are now employed at banks in Palatine and Arlington Heights.

But being away from Wauconda doesn't stop the famous twins from going back to the old home town to play basketball and the Strokers boys are towers of strength on the Wauconda town team this year keeping the name of Wauconda and Strokers still famous in basketball.

A big crowd witnessed the Wauconda-Crystal Lake game. Max Butler of Palatine was referee.

(What one calls 'Luck' is merely getting the breaks of the game and one cannot get the breaks unless one plays the game!)

Lady Luck has a tantalizing habit of favoring the lads with gr and pluck—as a rule, and not the weakling exception to the rule—the lads who are always trying get Luck's breaks, and "bring hon the bacon!"

These lads meet up with Lady Luck quite often, for this winsor, vivacious damsel is continually displaying her charms on the ros called "Trying"—and on this road there is no such thing as Failure because Luck almost always favors the tryer.—Cold-Turkey Mol (the Pep-O-Logue Bam).

WE'VE heard whinin' grannies sit and cry and ston wheeze, "What luck!" This lad "Willin' Billy sure he is a lucky duck! Once when fishin' he fell smack into the lake—alas! Came up laughin' simple, with his boots plumb full of bass! Now that's winnin' favors, folks, that Johnny Quitter can't—He's a-loafin' always, never catches bass we'll grant! 'Cause he's stayin' closer to the feed-bag there at home—Shirks all strivin'—such is Johnny—vacant in his dome. 'Stead of singin' sonnets to the goddess one calls Luck—Sing some praisin' verses to the sturdy god of Pluck! For our Willin' Billy's noticed funny things by gab—He's been havin' lots of luck that loafers never nab! Bunch of sittin' Johnny Quitters never countin' much—No chance gettin' lucky 'cause with Luck they're out of touch. We have moanin' Johnny Quitters throwin' hints to Luck—But this charmin' lady favors lads with grit and pluck!

In the curtain raiser to the big game the crowd got its enthusiasm up to a great pitch over a great battle between the lightweight teams. The second string players

Palatine played the best game, they have shown this season but they did not turn in the game which that combination is capable of and at critical times they were caught standing around waiting to see what the other fellow was going to do instead of being in there trying to stop him from doing it.

Just a little more accuracy on basket shooting would have brought home the bacon for Palatine.

Those missed free throws and fozzled shots from the field cost Palatine the game.

Libertyville had a big advantage in being able to send in plenty of replacement troops from the big squad they carry while the burden of the whole game fell on the same five men for Palatine. Grandy despite his injury which made him woozy at times, played a whale of a game. These teams meet in the return game at the Arlington gym on February 18 and with the remembrance of Saturday's game in the minds of the fans that Arlington gym will be packed to the roof.

of both schools furnished some clever basketball and fought hard the superiority of numbers and size finally giving Libertyville the decision at 15 to 6 count. The score at the quarter was 1 to 1, at the half 4 to 2 in favor of Palatine and at the three quarters 14 to 6 in favor of Libertyville with a big squad of seasoned second stringers wore down the Palatine boys and got away from them in the second half.

The Libertyville high school had was an added attraction and as the home first team took the floor they blared out with "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here," and helped liven up things during the intermissions.

Homes Of Earth

Earth has been used for building dwellings and other structures for many centuries. One method of use, superior to others and which was known and used by the Romans, is being revived for modern buildings. The method consists of ramming slightly moist earth, without the addition of straw or other material, between movable forms, and is known by its French name "pise de terre" which means "rammed earth." Rammed earth is a reliable building material when properly handled and is admirably adapted to buildings on farms, especially if suitable earth is at hand. Where it is difficult to obtain other building materials such as are commonly used for farm structures, earth may be a successful substitute because it is already on the building site. A suitable soil consists of a mixture of clay and sand. Earth that forms into clods when dug will likely prove suitable. Earth of proper kind tamped hard in form like those used for concrete construction will make very desirable walls, possessing excellent insulating qualities. Such walls have been known to stand for a hundred years or more. Instructions for "rammed earth" construction can be obtained from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Home-making is more important than housekeeping, although it usually includes housekeeping as a part of itself. "Too often," an authority on home-management says, "time and energy consumed in housekeeping have made real home making impossible." The farm wife as the business partner of the farmer, the manager of the farm home, needs time and energy to think and plan for real home making through cultivation of those qualities of mind and soul which makes her an interesting and attractive companion to her whole family.

A St. Louis woman recently fined for smuggling, says she didn't know there was a law against it. Up this way, we had supposed all St. Louis people knew all the details of how to violate any law on the books.

If Remus' wife was one of those kind of women that attempts to feed their husbands celery soup, we don't blame him for murdering her. A young girl is reported suing Harry Thaw for $100,000 for breach of promise. She must be awfully young to have taken Harry seriously.

Quality Shown in Outward Beauty—Whippet established the modern tendency in light car design by introducing the vogue for smart, compact bodies with low, fleet lines. Now pleasing new colors and new body refinements further add to the appearance and quality of this perfected car.

Big 4-wheel Brakes—more braking surface per pound of car weight than any other light car. You can stop from 40 miles an hour within 51 feet.

Rear Gasoline Tank—for utmost safety—with vacuum fuel feed. This costs more to build, but is much safer, as Whippet's low insurance rates indicate.

164 Inches of Springs, giving that extreme riding comfort that only very long springs can give. Snubbers prevent rebound and insure the highest degree of smoothness over rough roads.

Long Leg Room in front and rear. The unique design of Whippet's body and cowl makes this possible.

Force-Feed Lubrication—The only light car with drilled crankshaft for full pressure lubrication to the main, connecting rod, generator shaft and camshaft bearings.

Adjustable Steering Wheel—enables you to raise or lower the steering wheel to the most convenient height. Either a tall or short driver may be entirely comfortable at the wheel of the Whippet.

Increased Speed—Whippet superiority is also expressed in greater—and safer—speed; 55 to 60 miles per hour, and many owners say 65.

Greater Gasoline Economy—Whippet holds the A.A.A. Coast-to-Coast economy record of 43.28 miles per gallon. In a nationwide test among 5,508 owners, the average was 38 miles to a gallon.

Lower Center of Gravity—Whippet introduced lower center of gravity among light cars—for greater safety at higher speed—and still leads in this vital feature.

Faster Pick-Up—Whippet's pick-up of 5 to 30 miles in 11½ seconds gives you the advantage when the traffic light says "Go."

Silent Timing Chain—as used on the most expensive cars. Adopted after long experience with other types.

Other Important Features—Interchangeable Chadwick-type main bearings, single plate clutch, generator driven by silent timing chain, longer connecting rods, banjo-type rear axle housing with removable shaft, and modern Hotchkiss drive are other quality car features of the Whippet.
